Crash on Hwy. 90

Officers from the Bay St. Louis police and fire departments, American Medical Response and Bulldog Towing work Monday to clean up after an accident on Hwy. 90 in which both vehicles flipped.

Bay woman not seriously injured when car flips

BY GEOFF BELCHER
News Editor

A Bay St. Louis woman escaped serious injury Monday when her car collided with a pick-up truck on Hwy. 90, flipping both vehicles and blocking traffic for more than an hour.

Bay St. Louis Police Chief Frank McNeil said Sue Anne Lizana, 28, was in the left lane heading east on Hwy. 90 in Bay St. Louis near the Drinkwater Blvd. intersection when her 1999 Honda Accord struck a 2001 Ford F-150 driven by Alton W. Lindsey, 58, of Gulfport. Lindsey, also in the east-bound lane, was attempting to turn left when Lizana's

Wreck kills pregnant Bay woman; newborn at hospital in 'stable but critical' condition

A Bay St. Louis woman critically injured in a traffic accident Monday survived long enough to deliver a baby Monday night.

Sgt. Joe Gazzo of the Mississippi Highway Patrol identified the victim as Margie Cobb, 41.

According to Gazzo, a truck being driven by Victor Alfaro, 20, of Perkinston ran the stop sign while headed west on Standard-Dedeaux Road and struck a vehicle being driven by Tammy Moran, 32, of Perkinston, who was northbound on Mississippi 608.

Alfaro's truck was pushed into the southbound lane where it was struck by Cobb, who was driving a 2000 Toyota. Gazzo said Cobb's car wedged under the pickup, but rescue workers were able to get her out of the vehicle and transported Cobb to Hancock Medical Center.

A spokesman said Cobb was eight months pregnant and doc-

Second beachfront owner objects to obstacle plan

Another beachfront property owner is questioning plans by the county to clear mailboxes and other obstacles out of the right-of-way.

Fran and Larry Fuselier sent a letter to the Echo raising several questions about plans by the county to remove the obstacles by Aug. 31 if property owners don't remove them.

In the letter, the Fuseliers warned twice: "DO NOT REMOVE ANYTHING FROM 211 N. Beach Blvd. Waveland." The Fuseliers also sent copies of the letter to the Board of Supervisors, District 1 Supervisor Jeep Ladner, Waveland Mayor Tommy Longo, neighbor Roland Hymel, and attorney Larry Centola.

Mrs. Fuselier also came to the Echo to say the county policy raises more questions than it answers.

"If all encroachments are to be removed from Beach Boulevard, I would like a letter stating that it is a blanket policy and all encroachments are to be removed," she wrote county Attorney Gerald Gex.

In her case, Fuselier said she received only one letter instructing her she must remove a horse ornament, which serves as a support for her mailbox. She con-

At press time, area law enforcement officers were searching the vast Stennis buffer zone for an 18-year-old girl missing since Monday afternoon.

Robert Lambert, chief investigator with Hancock County Sheriff's Department said the girl's boyfriend committed suicide in Harrison County sometime Wednesday morning.

Shannon Harter was last seen about 1:30 p.m. Monday at the Mississippi Welcome Center off Interstate 10 and Mississippi Hwy. 603, Lambert said.

McLeod 'drowning' was a heart attack

BY ED LEPOMA
Staff Writer

A Picayune man suffered a fatal heart attack Saturday while swimming in the Jourdan River at McLeod Water Park.

Hancock County Coroner Norma Stiglet identified the victim as Michael J. Perry, 57. She said he and friends were camping at the popular park, and Perry was swimming when he went under water.

When friends did not see him surface, they called rescue authorities, Stiglet said.

"At first, we thought he had drowned," said Stiglet. However, she said an autopsy showed Perry died of natural causes due to a heart attack.

The Hancock County Sheriff's Department, the Long Beach Fire Department and other agencies searched for the body for more than two hours before finding Perry.

'No frills' budget proposed in Pass

BY ED LEPOMA
Staff Writer

Mayor Billy McDonald will propose what he calls, "a no-frills, meat and potatoes" budget for Pass Christian.

The Mayor and Board of Aldermen have scheduled a public hearing on next year's capital and operating budget for 6 p.m. Sept. 4 at City Hall. Barring any unforeseen obstacles, plans are to officially adopt the budget at a special meeting Sept. 12.

Plans call for spending an estimated $9,963,850 next year, down from the $10,620,000 spent last year. The budget proposes an across-the-board four percent salary hike for all city employees and department heads. It also provides a raise of $2,500 a year once police and firemen complete academy training and are state certified.

McDonald and City Comptroller Janet Dudding sat down with the Echo last week to preview next year's spending.

McDonald said he is most proud of the fact that city police and fire protection and other city departments can operate next year without the city having to raise property tax millage.

"In fact, we have been able to cut one-tenth of one mill this year," said McDonald. Since he took office in 1995, McDonald said he has cut property taxes a total 19 mills.

City property tax assessments for next year are expected to total $49,379,082, down from the $50,290,714 last year, McDonald said. He said revenue from property tax was reduced for next year because the Harrison County Board of Supervisors lowered some taxes for residents who challenged their appraisals last year.

Dudding said the four percent salary hike for the city's 90 full-time and 20 part-time employees will cost about $200,000. The pay package starts with police and firemen out at $6 an hour, but after they are academy trained they will get a one-step raise amounting to a $2,500 increase in salary.

"We're a small city, and we do have problems with police and firemen turnover," said McDonald. "We can't match the salaries being paid in some of the other cities in Harrison County, but we want to recognize those who stay with the department," he said.

The portion of the budget that provide for Public Safety (police and firemen) represents almost a fifth of the total budget, with a total $2,096,940 allocated for next year.

McDonald said he is also recommending cutting out donations to events or organizations outside of the city. Last year, total charitable donations and advertising amounted to $19,000.

"We didn't give the chamber anything last year. This year, we're recommending $1,000. We want to help our other local events, such as Christmas in the Pass and the annual Blessing of the Fleet," the mayor said.

The largest capital project planned next year will be expansion of the fishing pier on the west side of the Municipal Harbor.

Dudding said about $250,000 in Tidelands funds will be used for the expansion.

Last July, the city let a contract for $1,185,586 to replace the collapsing east wall of the harbor. McDonald said GM&R Construction of Waveland will soon begin work on the site. The project was financed using a combination of state grants and Tidelands funds.

McDonald said the city had hoped to land a state Community Development Block Grant for refurbishing the Randolph Multi-Purpose Center, which now houses the Senior Citizens Center and youth and recreation activities, but was not successful.

"They told us to re-apply," said McDonald.

Dudding said the city does have on hand $255,000, in hazardous mitigation funds funneled to the city through the Mississippi Emergency Management Agency. She said some of those funds will be used to retrofit the Randolph Center, City Hall and the city library to make them more hurricane and disaster-proof.

There are no funds set aside for drainage improvements or street paving, but McDonald said the city will seek some funding assistance from the Harrison County Board of Supervisors.

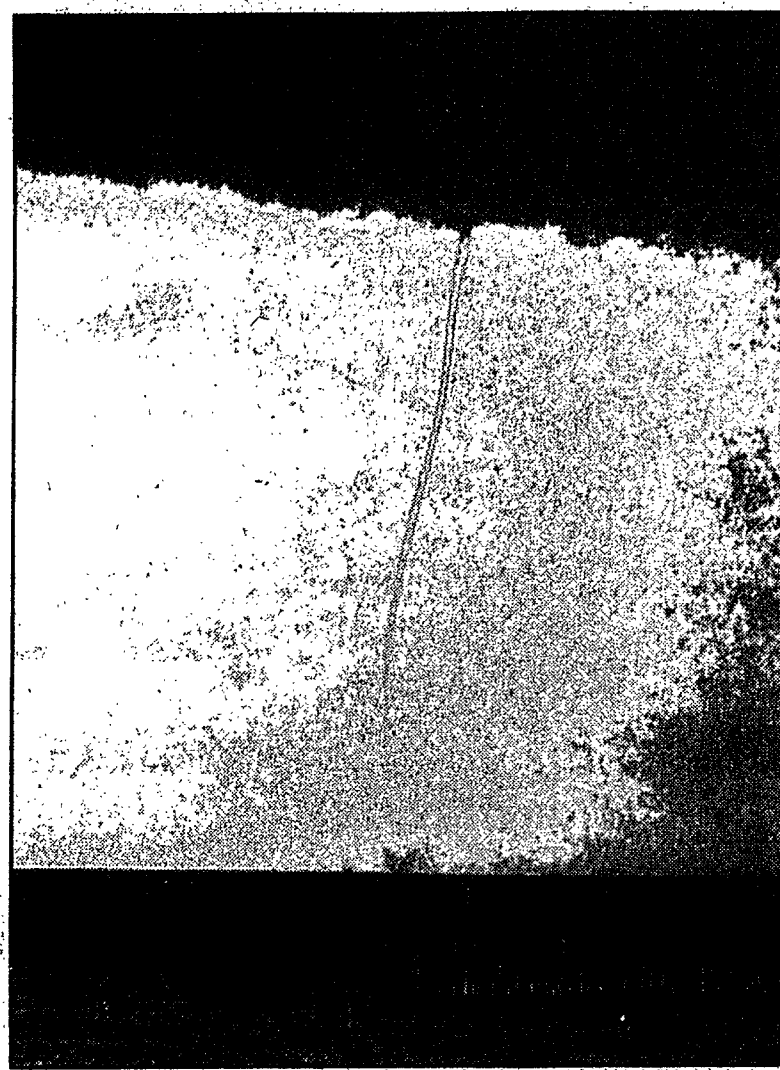

"We've got some real problems with drainage, especially on the east side of town. Supervisor Marlin Ladner helped us in the past, and I hope he'll help us again this year," said McDonald.

McDonald said he is also hoping companies in the city's Industrial Park off North Street, such as Gulf Coast Prestress, Inc., will benefit by the dredging of Bayou Portage.

The city and the Harrison County Development Commission landed a $389,825 CBDG grant to pay its share of the dredging cost. The project will be undertaken by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, which is sharing the major portion of the cost, which will also include replacing the existing bridge.

"The big barges can't get into our industrial park because the bayou is silted in," said McDonald. "They're going into Port Bienville," (in Hancock County. "Hopefully, this will bring more business into our industrial park," he added.

Southern Miss to offer MBA at Stennis Space Center

Beginning this semester, the University of Southern Mississippi will offer a new master of business administration degree program at the John C. Stennis Space Center.

The program, which is a three-year, part-time course of study, is the result of a collaboration between the College of Business Administration and the Center of Higher Learning at Stennis.

"We are excited about the opportunity to work with the Center for Higher Learning in delivering an on-site MBA program for Stennis Space Center employees," said Dr. William Gunther, dean of the College of Business Administration.

"The business faculty have developed a strong reputation for delivering a relevant and high-quality MBA program, and our selection by the center reflects their dedication and hard work."

The program's initial class will have approximately 15 students, with a significant enrollment increase expected for the fall semester next year.

"The center has worked closely with Dean Gunther and the college to develop an MBA program that will meet the needs of Stennis Space Center employees and employers," said Dr. Stephen Bushardt, director of graduate programs for the College of Business Administration. NASA, the U.S. Navy, Mississippi Space Commerce Initiative and Mississippi Space Services all employ MBA students at Stennis.

The program was designed by Southern Miss business faculty, with input from the USM Business Advisory Board, students, alumni and employers of the College of Business Administration graduates.

For more information on the CBA graduate program, contact Sue Fayard, assistant to the director for the Graduate School of Management, at (601) 266-4653, or log on to <www.usmmba.usm.edu> <http://www.usmmba.usm.edu> on the Internet.

DMR to remove derelict vessels

The Department of Marine Resources (DMR) will be removing two derelict vessels from Gulfport Harbor near Grand Casino Aug. 29-30. The DMR began its efforts to remove the two sunken vessels, the Arvina V and the Capt. Terrell, in May 2000.

J.E. Borries Inc. of Vancleave won the bid on Aug. 16 to remove the two vessels, both wood shrimp boats, at a cost of $18,400.

"Derelict vessels can pose a real problem to our waterways and harbors in the form of pollution by leaking fuel, oil, or other contaminants into the water," said Irvin Jackson, Derelict Vessel Program coordinator.

"In many cases, they can also be a hazard to navigation. The possibility of these vessels being moved during a storm and causing damage to other boats and property, and possibly blocking our harbors, is also a valid concern. It is in the best interest of the community to remove these vessels as quickly as the law allows."

As required by law, any known owners of derelict vessels must be notified and given 30 days to remove their abandoned and derelict vessels.

If the owners fail to remove the vessel within that time, legal proceedings are started in Chancery Court. This process may take from six to over 12 months to complete with the end result being a judgment allowing the DMR to remove and dispose of the derelict vessel.

The court may also issue fines of up to $500 a day for every day the vessel has been declared derelict and abandoned.

The Derelict Vessel Program is funded annually through the Tidelands Trust Fund Program. The Tidelands Trust Fund Program consists of funds derived from the lease rentals of tidelands and submerged lands.

Revenues are collected by the Office of Secretary of State, appropriated by the state legislators and administered by the DMR.

The Mississippi Department of Marine Resources is dedicated to enhancing, protecting and conserving marine interests of the state by managing all marine life, public trust wetlands, adjacent uplands and waterfront areas to provide for the optimal commercial, recreational, educational and economic uses of these resources consistent with environmental concerns and social changes. Visit DMR at www.dmr.state.ms.us.

'Ethics for everyone' at Memorial

Memorial Hospital will sponsor a one-day conference on Ethics for Everyone: Focus on the Human Spirit.

This program will stimulate the discussion of complex ethical issues in health care. Memorial invites physicians, nurses, social workers, other health care professionals, caregivers, clergy, attorneys, and individuals interested in ethical issues.

Some of the topics that will be discussed are issues such as respecting the human need for self-determination, religion, spirituality, health, pain management, and decision making at the end of life.

The conference, presented by Memorial Hospital, will be conducted Friday, Sept. 7, from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the Grand Hotel Ballroom in Gulfport. Registration is required, and there is a fee to attend.

To register, call 867-3362.

Memorial in Progress

The long awaited American Legion Memorial at the foot of Coleman Avenue in Waveland is finally underway. The memorial on the beach will include a flag tribute and a fountain. Representatives from Beacon construction said the project should be completed in two or three weeks.

First Tuesday Talks start Sept. 4 at the Depot

Power Pay Debt Reduction is the topic kicking off the First Tuesday Talks series developed by the Bay St. Louis Division of Cultural Affairs to be held at the Depot from noon to 1 p.m. the first Tuesday of each month. Professionals in the topic field will present the talks about a variety of issues.

First Tuesday Talks are free of charge, and the city provides a beverage to go with attendees' brown-bag lunch. Reservations are not required.

Extension Home Economist Darlene Underwood will present Power Pay Debt Reduction. The Power Pay Program allows you to quickly see the impact of power payments on individualized consumer debt situations.

"Debt reduction is a major topic for everyone as we experience an economic slowdown, a sluggish stock market and the rising costs of education. This is our way to help citizens and business community benefit from free resources to improve the quality of their lives," said Mike Cuevas, director of Cultural Affairs.

Underwood says the audience does not need to bring any specific information with them to benefit from learning about the program.

Individual, confidential consultations will be arranged with those interested in becoming debt-free.

"The program will project interest costs and repayment time for each creditor without using power payments."

"It will provide a suggested repayment order and the costs in time and interest required to repay each creditor using power payments."

"It will show projected savings in time and money. Those taking advantage of the program will be provided with a debt reduction calendar outlining month by month exactly how much is to be paid to each creditor," said Underwood.

For more information about First Tuesday Talks, contact Cuevas at 463-7120 or depot@goldinc.com.

National Day of Remembrance slated

September 25 has been designated National Day of Remembrance. This day gives families and friends an opportunity to remember their loved ones who were homicide victims and let communities participate in this special day of remembrance as well.

Sharing Our Strength, a homicide program of the Sexual Assault Crisis Center is sponsoring a silent vigil to remember victims of homicide Sept. 25 outside of the Forrest County Courthouse at 630 Main Street, Hattiesburg, at 7 p.m.

"The Vigil Committee would be honored if family members and friends of homicide victims in Mississippi would join us or send us information about their loved one(s) as we wish to include as many homicide victims as possible for this special day. United together, we are saying, 'you are not forgotten,'" said spokesperson June Renfrow.

Names of homicide victims will be read in alphabetical order as well as the date of birth and date of death (or disappearance, if applicable).

A candle will be lit for each individual as the name is read. "We would also like to include a picture of the homicide victim to hold as their memory candle is lit," said Renfrow.

To participate in this special day, please provide the following: Name of victim, date of birth, date of death (or disappearance) and a photograph (if you wish).

"Also, please let us know by September 17 if you will be attending the vigil to hold your photograph and light your candle," Renfrow said.

Cuevas' Quotes

by Ellis C. Cuevas
Publisher Emeritus

This weekend marks the Labor Day celebrations across the country and means there will be lots of folks traveling our highways and roadways.

Some will be vacationing, while others will be visiting family and friends.

As normal, the weekend will mean extra work for our law enforcement agencies, even those on our waterways.

While most folks will have a good time, law enforcement officers will have to wait to celebrate, as the holiday weekend means extra work in most cases.

Dr. Billy White, Jr., executive director of Mississippi Public Safety Planning, makes several recommendations to motorists over the Labor Day weekend.

They include allowing sufficient time to drive within speed limits in reaching a destination and also for return; never consume alcoholic beverages before or during the operation of a motor vehicle; be sure all vehicle occupants are using safety belts or child protective devices; and have all children ride in the back of automobiles.

In our area we have lots of water, so there are many boating activities such as fishing, skiing, personal watercraft, swimming, etc.

Safety is very important when one is on water. Make sure you have proper flotation devices and any other requirements for water motorcrafts.

Accidents can happen fast on water. I can recall early one morning when I was fishing with my friend on the mud flat at the mouth of the Jourdan and saw a nice-sized craft catch fire as it passed Joe's Bayou.

We could see the boaters hitting the water in the river's channel and were pulling anchor to respond, as we were several hundred yards away. Meanwhile, it so happened another boat came from up the river and retrieved the fishermen from the water.

Those in watercrafts need to be circumspect of persons swimming, too, as many swimmers use the bay, river, bayous and canals.

I am hoping that each and every one of you will have a safe and happy Labor Day weekend.

There appears to be an epidemic of political signs being damaged or destroyed within the past month or so.

Political signs being damaged or destroyed is nothing new for this county, but it appears it is really at a fast pace, especially in the special Justice Court Judge's race set for November 6.

Candidates spend lots of money to have signs made for them, and it is unlawful to destroy or remove candidate signs which are properly posted.

If you do not like a candidate, since this is a democratic society, you can express your dislike by voting against him or her.

You may have some hidden talent and not even know it. You can have an opportunity to express this hidden talent on Sunday afternoon during the Wave-Fest 2001 sandsculpting contest.

This is just a part of the Coleman Avenue Coalition, Mad Mozart Productions, Waveland Civic Association and City Services big Sunday afternoon of activities.

The sandsculpting contest will be from noon to 3 p.m. at the foot of Coleman Avenue on the beach. There will be prizes for professionals and amateurs. For information, call 466-6618.

Live music will be from noon to 8 p.m. on Coleman Avenue with seven bands scheduled.

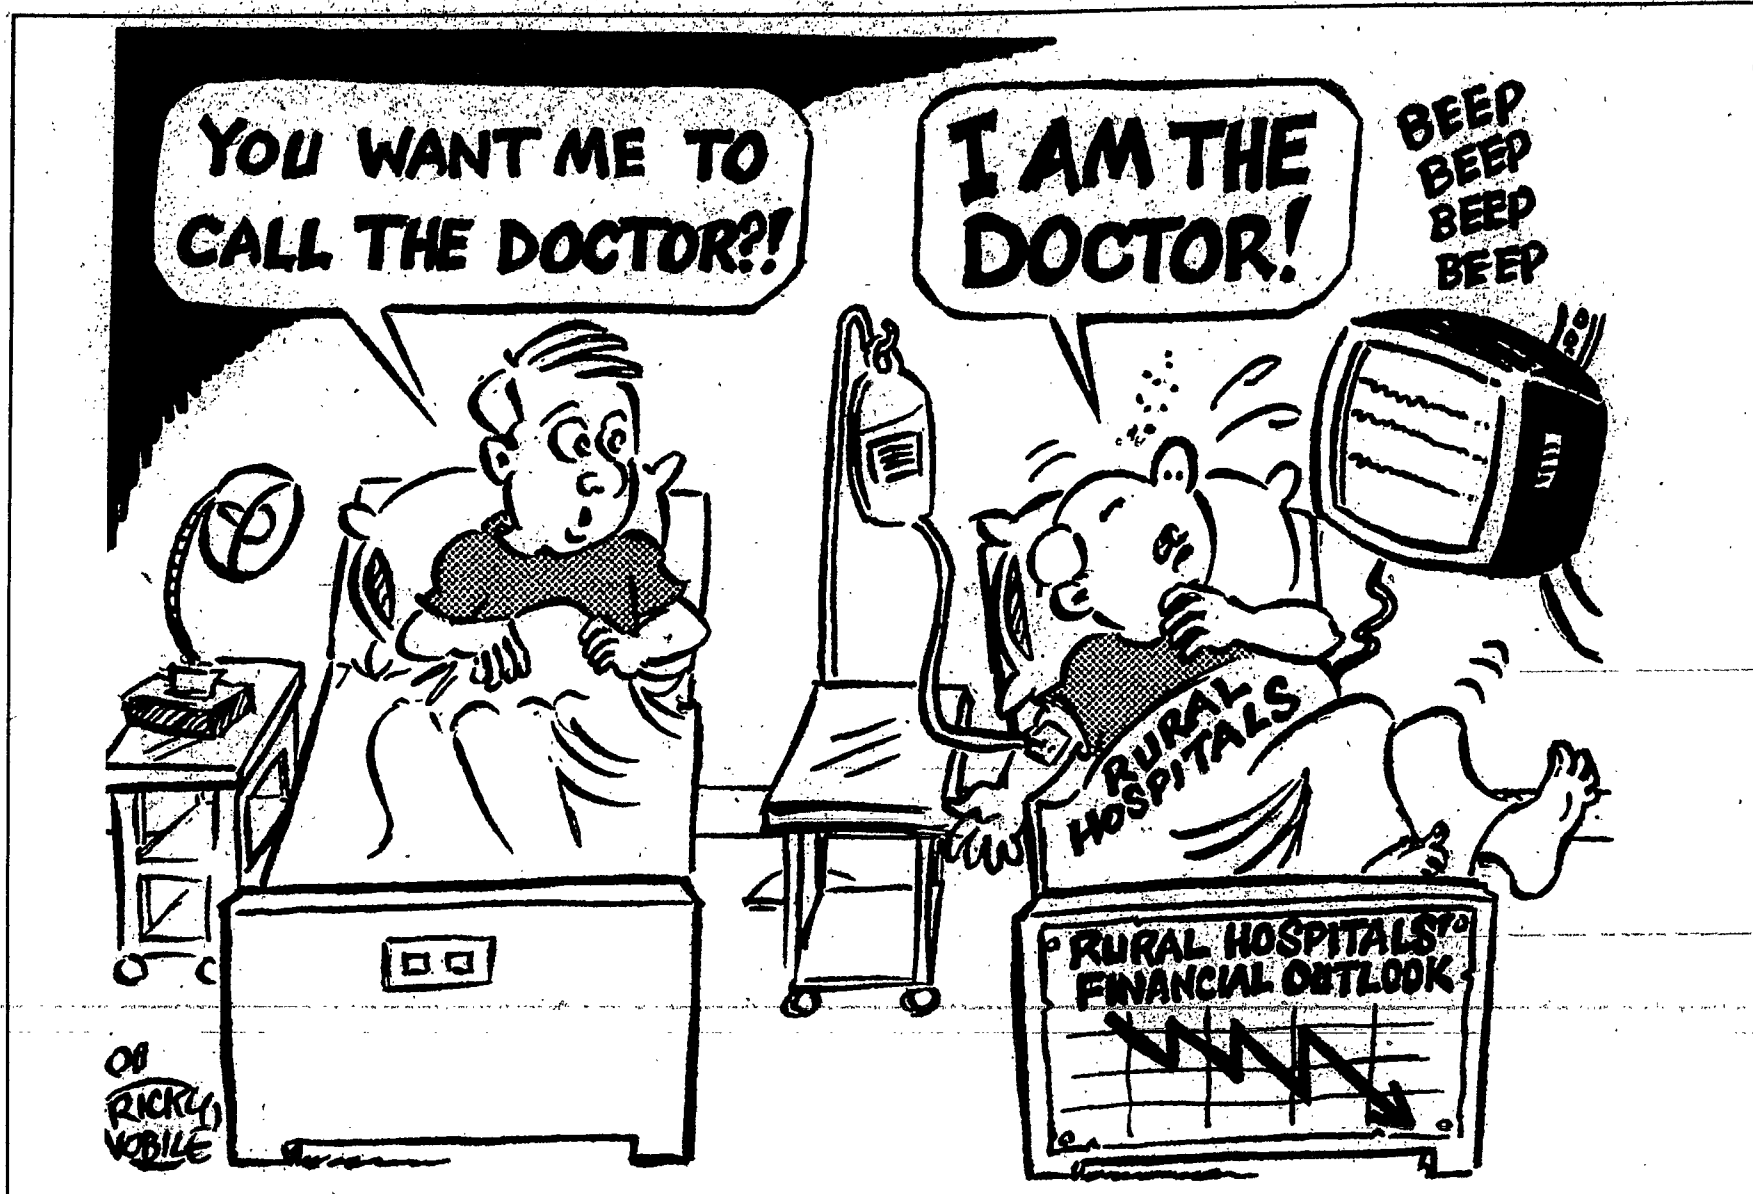

For the kids there will be a Story Tree, sponsored by the library and others, pony and train rides, woodcarving exhibit, and other activities.

There will be a raffle with top prize being a $500 painting and other prizes.

Food and refreshment booths will be available in addition to arts and crafts featuring art, pottery, woodsculpting, florals, candles, plants, etc.

Do not forget there will be an Antique Auto Show by the Misfits, too.

To top off the evening, or should I say pop off the evening, at dusk, the traditional fireworks display, sponsored by the Waveland Civic Association, will take place on the beach by Coleman Avenue.

Letters to the Editor

Hancock Supervisors' new beach policy needs clarification

cc: The Sea Coast Echo and Gerald C. Gex, Board Attorney, Board of Supervisors.
Re: Beach Road encroachments

Dear Mr. Gex

I have tried unsuccessfully to reach you by telephone to discuss the above referenced letter. This is the one and only letter that I have received.

The board secretary indicated that there were three sent previously. I then requested copies of each from her. I again request copies of each from your office.

I have many concerns and questions that need to be answered and addressed prior to any removal of property from the above captioned property.

If ALL encroachments are to be removed from Beach Blvd., I would like a letter stating that it is a blanket policy and ALL ENCROACHMENTS are to be removed.

Please furnish me with a listing of ALL encroachments on Beach Blvd. Please furnish me with a copy of all letters that went out targeting same. Please furnish me with copies of ALL surveys indicating any encroachment on the beach.

In addition to these documents I am also requesting a copy of any and ALL legal documents that state exactly what an encroachment is and what the county's standard is for removal.

Please send me a copy of all legal documents that support the county's position.

The Horse Ornament is a hollow break away base to support a mailbox. My understanding is that regulation size mailboxes are exempt. So they are not to be removed as they are to become mailboxes.

The trees referred to consist of two small Crepe Myrtle plants. It's a stretch to call them trees.

If my two plants are to be called encroachments and removed, I would like in writing a statement that ALL plants on Beach Blvd., both Bay St. Louis and Waveland, are to be removed at the same time.

I do not want to be targeted and others exempted. This BAD policy will need to be enforced unilaterally. Many residents have spent their own monies to beautify the beach area, and you wish to destroy it.

This is a BAD policy. An example is the 300 and 400 blocks of N. Beach in Waveland. The entire blocks are covered with beautiful oleanders. Are you really going to destroy something that adds so much to the beach?

711 N. Beach Blvd., Waveland, has beautiful professionally landscaped gardens. How can you even consider removal?

Most cities and counties encourage and are extremely pleased when their residents use their own money to improve the area for everyone to enjoy.

Should the county still insist on removal of ALL plantings on Beach Blvd., I would like in writing that the county will be responsible for any and all costs should the plants not survive being transplanted in the heat of the summer.

Plants should be transplanted in the winter when they are dormant.

I will be happy to meet with you and share my concerns in person. But until these documents have been furnished to us and this matter resolved, DO NOT REMOVE anything from my property at 221 N. Beach Blvd., Waveland.

I still have several unresolved questions.

One is, should the county destroy or damage my property, will they furnish me with a letter saying they will be responsible for the damage?

For the record, I again state that until all of the above issues have been resolved, DO NOT REMOVE ANYTHING from 221 N. Beach Blvd. Waveland.

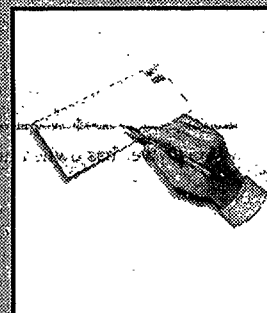

I hope to hear from you regarding our concerns, and I await copies of all information and documents requested. Thanking you for your cooperation in this matter, I remain.

Sincerely,
Larry and Fran Fuselier

Response to reader: Driving is a privilege, not a citizen's right

To the Editor:

This is in response to Mr. John Clark's letter about his daughter being arrested for driving with a suspended license.

If Mr. Clark is ever in an accident with someone who has a suspended license he will become acutely aware of why a valid license is so important.

If the person with the suspended license had insurance to begin with, the insurance company is usually no longer required to pay for any damages or injuries.

Now why would some responsible person like his daughter have her license suspended in the first place? Could it be she has unpaid traffic tickets for previous violations, a DUI, or she does not have insurance?

Mr. Clark seems to think that his daughter's driving with a suspended license is not serious, but it is.

He seems to forget driving is a privilege, not a right. I find it humorous that Mr. Clark mentions his daughter looks "normal" without, multiple piercings, tattoos, or unusual hair color.

Does he have some inside scoop that we are not aware of? Do people who look like that tend to drive with suspended licenses more often than "normal" looking people do?

God forbid, I hope he is not suggesting that the police actually profile!

I can't argue with Mr. Clark's statement that police corruption is a problem, but I doubt that has anything to do with his daughter's license being suspended.

Yeah, the jails are overcrowded, but people like his daughter can be bonded out as soon as their paperwork is done. Based on his letter she hasn't been convicted yet of driving with her license, so she wasn't serving time, and odds are if convicted she will have to pay a fine, not serve time in our overcrowded jail.

If she does not want to have to bond out again, I suggest she walk to work, ride a bike or ask someone (preferable with a valid license) for a ride.

The police would love to devote more time to tracking down murderers and people who commit more serious crimes. Usually most cops, on their way to the scene of a murder or other serious crimes don't make traffic stops unless a driver's actions appear to be dangerous.

Unfortunately, while on routine patrol, which is an important part of an officer's job, it's very difficult for them to drive far without stumbling across someone with a suspended license.

Even though just knowing someone has a suspended license is enough probable cause for the police to pull them over, usually the person has committed another traffic violation that got their attention before the officer ran their license and found out it was suspended.

If an officer wrote someone with a suspended license a ticket and let them drive away instead of taking them to jail, he and his department could be liable if that person had an accident after the traffic stop.

An officer has discretion to let someone else drive if another person with a valid license is in the vehicle instead of taking the driver to jail.

But usually by the time someone's license is suspended they have shown the police that they have little respect for the laws they are required to enforce.

Sincerely,
Rita Blaize-Watson

"I did not open the doors of my shop for the need of something to do with my time so what happens in the shop is taken very seriously. Ladies are not shopping to look average, they're shopping to look great. Many ladies shop and are never truly pleased with what they look like in their new clothing mainly because assistance is not available in most stores. Unlike department stores, The Image Company provides a more personal shopping experience for ladies. Assisting clients with all the details involved in achieving a total fashion look is simply a part of any visit here."

My role in the shop involves great one-on-one wardrobe conversations with clients and I love it. Some Ladies are very comfortable selecting styles for themselves. Others request my assistance. I'll select 3 or 4 styles that are complimentary to a ladies figure and personality. I prefer the client make the final selection. She looks great, she's happy and I have earned her trust as to what styles are best for her.

I am happy with what has happened here for me. My clients have enabled me to survive as a small new business in a small town. They have brought or sent new clients in on a regular basis. I have them to thank for building my clientele."

Kathy Jordan is owner of Southern Images Custom Picture Framing in Gulfport. Her shop has been open for 5-1/2 years.

After serving as Ad Director of Gayfers Department Store for 15 years and of Roses Department Store prior to that, Kathy was looking for a new venture. With an art background and woodcrafting as a hobby, picture framing was an easy choice.

The decision to locate in the newly annexed, rapidly growing Orange Grove area of Hwy 49 was also an easy choice. "It was easily accessible from anywhere on the coast and there was a need. I wanted to be in on the growth." The growth has been fantastic and being only 1 mile north of Crossroads mall has been a great help.

Kathy is a member of the Professional Picture Framers Association. Her shop offers superior quality in framing at comparable prices and sells art prints by popular artists.

Kathy also owns Southern Belle Truck Lines LLC. It is operated by her husband and co-owner, Rusty. She recently started a new job as sales consultant at Kirschman's Furniture in Crossroads Mall.

Wendy Siewert is owner, along with Joel Lee, of Fiesta Pools, LLC, located on Hwy 49 N in Gulfport. The two moved back to the Gulf Coast and opened Fiesta Pools in May 2001, and the store has become very competitive within it's local and surrounding market. They currently reside in Pass Christian.

Fiesta Pools offers its customers the "lowest prices on quality above-ground swimming pools and in ground swimming pools, complete with installation." Fiesta Pools' in-ground swimming pools start at only $8,500, and customers are already booked through late October with orders booked in December and January, to be ready for Summer 2002. We offer a display of pools on the premises.

Fiesta Pools also offers low pricing on all chemicals, with a recommended maintenance system costing about $30 per month. We carry a variety of supplies, automatic cleaners, pool accessories, and inflatable, at very competitive prices. Fiesta Pools will be adding a complete pool maintenance service beginning this Fall. In addition, Fiesta Pools will be adding a line of spas and billiards. This process has taken some time because we have been searching to find the lowest prices and best quality to offer our customers.

Fiesta Pools is located on Hwy 49 N, approximately 1.5 miles north of I-10, next to Burger King. We are open Monday - Saturday.

For the past twelve years, Pattie Jenkins, Jennifer Larson and their staff have made Toucans Mostly Mexican Cafe one of the Coast's favorite restaurants. The menu features traditional Mexican dishes as well as their own special creations - all served in a fun festive atmosphere. Nothing can lift your spirits like a frozen margarita from Toucans thatched roof bar, or try an exotic flavored margarita with melon, wild berry or pineapple-coconut. Toucans was recently voted the coast's best ethnic restaurant, but you can also enjoy juicy home-made burgers, grilled mahi mahi and scrumptious po-boys. There is no better way to relax than a trip to the tropics - right here in Gulfport at Toucans Mostly Mexican Cafe.

I opened Teenie's after the death of my 18 year old daughter. Her name was Armatine Ambrose. Her nickname was Teenie and she was named, and created to honor her memory. I have worked in retail for over twenty years, and owning my own business was a life long dream. More importantly I wanted to open a business in my own home town, against all suggestions by friends and family that it could not work. I believed with good products, competitive prices, and returning back to excellent customer services, which you find so little in retail these days our business would do well. We are family operated, and owned.

I worked for Sears & Roebuck, K-mart, Victoria Secret, Blockbuster, and Music World. I worked for the City of Pass Christian Public Works Department, Long Beach Public Library where I got my leadership experience.

I was born in New Orleans, and raised in Pass Christian. I had three daughters, Stacy, Armatine, Kristy, and one son Willie James. I married Willie W. James of Pass Christian. Teenie's is a hair and beauty supply store that specializes in Human and synthetic extension hair, wigs, pony tails, and more. We carry perms, shampoos, hair spray, and moisturizers. We also stock beauty products, greeting cards, sunglasses, and hair accessories. New to the store is Music cd's, Rap (with explicit lyrics), R&B, Blues, and Gospel. We carry CD's and Cassettes. At Teenie's if we don't have the music in stock we will order it. Judy is also a member of International Executive Guild.

Bonita Farve is the owner/operator of Southern Child, a children's shop, Southern Charm, a Hallmark Gift Shop and Diamondhead Dry Cleaners and laundrymat. She acquired these businesses earlier this year. Prior to her career in retail she was a teacher for 19 1/2 years in several schools along the coast. She taught general biology, and physical education. She was a basketball coach and was instrumental in the development of the Life Skills Program, still in effect today. Bonita earned her masters' degree in special education. When she retired from teaching, she found herself with time to kill. She decided to acquire the Diamondhead businesses she owns now for fun. (She says she is still waiting for the fun to start.)

Owning 3 businesses didn't seem like enough to do for this dynamic woman so she along with her 2 sons and family friend opened Farve's on the Bayou, formerly Rosco's.

It hardly seems that Bonita would have any spare time at all, but she makes time to attend Son Brett's Greenbay games and to spend time with her 3 other children and grandchildren.

A few words from Kathy Pinn...

It's been a great year and a half on Coleman Avenue. We've experienced tremendous acceptance from the community. Most things have stayed pretty much the same as far as furniture inventory. We've increased our lamp selection, new gift items, silver jewelry and whirly-doo inventory trying to meet our customers needs.

Our "Went to Waveland, Did Nothing, Loved It!" t-shirts have been a big hit with locals and tourists.

All in all we're still loving it on Coleman Avenue. If you're in the neighborhood, please stop by!

Start thinking about flood insurance

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
 Staff Writer

August marks the midway point in the hurricane season and a good time to think about flood insurance. The Mississippi Emergency Management Agency and the National Flood Insurance Program present these facts in urging property owners to purchase a flood insurance policy. Every structure in the state is located in either a high, moderate, or low risk flood zone. With 5.2 million acres of flood plain in Mississippi, floods are the most common form of natural disaster in the state.

Even so, there are only about 43,000 flood insurance policies in force, which can be a costly mistake for homeowners and renters alike. Homeowners insurance policies do not cover flood damage.

Many homes that lie in the special flood hazard area of a community require the purchase of a flood insurance policy at the time of the final closing, but just because flood insurance is not required does not mean there is no danger of flooding. More than 25 per cent of flood damage occurs outside the mapped flood plain.

Without flood insurance, property owners have to rely on a Presidential Disaster declaration which would make available limited grant funding and low interest loans to make repairs. Disaster declarations are made in only about 50 per cent of floods.

The average individual and family grant is usually less than $2,500. Loans must be paid back and with interest, with a lien attached to the property and a requirement that a flood insurance policy be purchased to protect the property.

Flood insurance reimburses you for covered losses up to $250,000 for homeowners and $500,000 for businesses depending on the policy amount. The insurance is continuous and is not canceled for repeated losses. Average cost for a policy is about $316 a year, or about the cost of one monthly loan payment on a low interest loan.

Policies have a 30-day waiting period before coming into effect. You may purchase a flood insurance policy directly from the NFIP or a local agent. For more information call 1-888-356-6329 toll free.

Teacher interns at DuPont plant

In order to bring real-life experience to her 10th and 12th grade students, Hancock High School Chemistry teacher, Nicole McWright, eagerly volunteered to intern at the DuPont White Pigment and Mineral Products DeLisle Plant for two weeks this summer.

McWright participated in the Mississippi Internship for Educators Program sponsored by the Pearl River Community College Technology Preparation Program.

The DuPont DeLisle plant produces Titanium Dioxide (TiO₂), which is found in paper, paint, or plastic as a white coloring agent or a product that allows equal color distribution when additional color is added. Fred Rendfrey, Area Manager of Training for the DuPont Plant, explained why DuPont participated in the intern program. "We thought it sounded like a good program that would involve teachers influencing students about career choices, and we wanted to be good neighbors. Even though the DuPont DeLisle plant is out of the Hancock county school district, we wanted to share our knowledge and show our concern for the classroom learning environment."

McWright toured the reaction, purification, finishing, and packing processes of our plant. She also spent time with employees in the day-to-day operations in every area of the plant, from the control lab to the packing area. McWright was particularly interested in the skills students need to become good employees, so she also met with our personnel department.

McWright will use the knowledge she gained at DuPont to show students how their studies in the classroom apply to real life. In addition, McWright can inform students what industries will be looking for in their future employees.

"Now, for example, when I talk about pressure and gas laws, I can use the concepts from the textbook and show how it applies to industry," she said. "I can better explain how students use math, such as numerical notation, to practice chemistry. I can explain why the metric system is important to learn, since DuPont is a global company they must package their product for use around the world. I think one of the most important training meetings was with the Personnel Department. I can tell my students companies like DuPont are looking for employees with presentation skills, math skills, chemistry skills, high safety standards, and team players. Students also have to take a number of tests, such as math, that are given by the company."

McWright was one of 20 teachers who completed internships with various industries this summer.

Participating in the PRCC

Tech Prep Consortium are 14 secondary school systems within the six-county district served by the community college.

Teachers spend approximately five to 10 days as interns to gain an understanding of the day-to-day operations of businesses. Teachers will take what they learn back to the classroom to show students how their studies in the classroom apply to real life. In addition, teachers can tell students what industries will be looking for in their future employees.

Other participants in this summer's program were Tony Oldmixon, Electronics instructor, PRCC, interned at Simon Electric; Daryl Smith, Heating & Air Conditioning instructor, PRCC, interned at Air Tech Heating & Cooling; Tim Anderson, Agricultural Mechanics teacher, Pearl River Central, interned at Fairchild's Sales & Service; Sarah Pylant, math teacher, Purvis High School, interned at Hensleigh's Ace Hardware; Nancy Miller, Allied Health teacher, Lamar County Vocational Center, interned at Sumrall Drug Store/Sumrall Dental Office; Emma Fortenberry, Career Center Technician, North Forrest High School, interned at Wesley Medical Center; Nan Doss, Family & Consumer Science teacher, Oak Grove High, worked at Wesley Medical Center; Teresa Poston, Science teacher, Lumberton High, worked at Cooper Power Systems; Clara Short, Biology teacher, Hattiesburg High, worked at USDA Agricultural Research Station; Sandra Barner, math teacher, Oak Grove Middle, worked at Mississippi Power; Kay Smith, Career Discovery teacher, N.R. Burger Middle, worked at Kohler Engines; Suzette Burton, Chemistry teacher, Hancock High, interned at USDA National Monitoring Lab; Shani Bourn, Biology teacher, Hancock High, interned at Wildlife Rehabilitation Society, Marine Life; Elizabeth Lott, Family & Consumer Science, Hancock High, interned at NASA; Michael Gaudin, Technology Discovery teacher, Hancock High, interned at NASA; Andy Perniciaro, Technology Discovery teacher, Hancock High, interned at NASA.

Olivier named to finance board

Lt.-Gov. Amy Tuck named Michael J. Olivier of Gulfport to the Mississippi Business Finance Corporation Board of Directors.

Olivier, executive director of the Harrison County Development Commission and a graduate of the University of Southwest Louisiana, was named Outstanding Economic Developer in Mississippi in 1999.

Olivier has served five terms on the board of directors of the American Economic Development Council and is a certified economic developer.

In addition, Olivier has served as director of International Programs at the University of Southwest Louisiana and executive vice president of the Lafayette Economic Authority.

Southern Miss to offer MBA at Stennis Space Center

Beginning this semester, the University of Southern Mississippi will offer a new master of business administration degree program at the John C. Stennis Space Center.

The program, which is a three-year, part-time course of study, is the result of a collaboration between the College of Business Administration and the Center of Higher Learning at Stennis.

"We are excited about the opportunity to work with the Center for Higher Learning in delivering an on-site MBA program for Stennis Space Center employees," said Dr. William Gunther, dean of the College of Business Administration. "The business faculty have developed a strong reputation for delivering a relevant and high-quality MBA program, and our selection by the center reflects their dedication and hard work."

"The center has worked closely with Dean Gunther and the college to develop an MBA program that will meet the needs of Stennis Space Center employees and employers," said Dr. Stephen Bushardt, director of graduate programs for the College of Business Administration. NASA, the U.S. Navy, Mississippi Space Commerce Initiative and Mississippi Space Services all employ MBA students at Stennis.

The program was designed by Southern Miss business faculty, with input from the USM Business Advisory Board, students, alumni and employers of the College of Business Administration graduates.

For more information on the CBA graduate program, contact Sue Fayard, assistant to the director for the Graduate School of Management, at (601) 266-4653, or log on to <www.usmmba.edu> or <http://www.usmmba.usm.edu> on the Internet.

ANNUITY OWNERS READ THIS!

Many annuity owners lose 70% of the value of their annuity when it pays off! Will this happen to you?

It's true. Annuities and IRAs can be double-taxed assets (subject to income taxes PLUS estate taxes). After estate taxes and income taxes, there can be as little as 30% of the value remaining. You can learn how to avoid the loss in the FREE educational booklet "Annuity Owner Mistakes." The booklet is free and shows how to avoid double taxation and get more benefits from your existing annuity value.

tends she received "one and only one letter" from the Board of Supervisors, although the office staff said she was sent three.

Now, she says, she understands her horse ornament does not have to be removed because it is poised on a hollow break-away base.

Her second question is regarding two small crepe myrtle trees. "It is a stretch to call them trees," she wrote.

"If my two plants are to be called encroachments and removed, I would like in writing a statement that ALL plants on Beach Boulevard, both in Bay St. Louis and Waveland must be removed," she told Gex.

Fuselier said, "I do not want to be targeted and others exempted. This bad policy will need to be enforced unilaterally."

Fuselier said many beachfront property owners have spent their own money planting trees and other shrubbery to make the beachfront more picturesque. She cited "beautiful Oleanders" in the 300 and 400 block of N. Beach Boulevard.

She also mentioned Roland

Hymel's "professionally landscaped gardens" at 711 N. Beach Blvd.

"Are you really going to destroy something that adds so much to the beach... How can you even consider removal? Most cities and counties encourage and are extremely pleased when their residents use their own money to improve the area for everyone to enjoy," she wrote.

Fuselier said should the county still insist on the removal of all plants on Beach Boulevard, she wants a promise in writing it will be responsible for "any and all costs should the plants not survive being transplanted in the heat of the summer."

Last week, Hymel said the blanket order to remove all obstacles in the county's 60-foot right-of-way in an area stretching from Bayou Caddy to St. Charles Street in Bay St. Louis would not work unless it is done without exception or exemptions are made for large trees and other plants in the way. Gex said the board would use "common sense" and approach each obstacle on a "case by case" basis.

Flyers are being distributed describing Harter. She is described as having brown hair, recently highlighted blonde. She was last seen wearing blue jeans, a light green pullover short-sleeved shirt and tennis shoes with a blue and white slide on the shoes.

"She was reported as a missing person, but we are of the suspicion foul play might be involved," said Lambert.

The scene around the search party was a bevy of activity, with several Waveland police cars, sheriff's department vehicles, and detectives' cars parked along both shoulders of southbound 603.

American Medical Response dispatched its Mobile Command Center, and it was stationed on a side road, just north of Interstate 10, along with other vehicles.

Lambert said Harrison County used its helicopter to search the woods, and Stennis Airport's plane was also used in the air search.

"I guess they were up in the air a good two hours," Lambert said.

Harrison County and St. Tammany Parish provided canines to aid the search, and AMR had some All-Terrain Vehicles on site. Volunteers from the West Hancock Fire Department were also scanning the woods.

Details of the suicide and the name of the victim were not immediately available. The Harrison County Sheriff's Department said the suicide was being investigated by the Mississippi Highway Patrol's Criminal Investigation Division. Lambert said Detective Kenny Hurt is in charge of the investigation taking place in Hancock County.

Plant now for fresh fall garden produce

By Bonnie Coblentz
MSU Ag Communications
Just as Good Friday signals the time to get the spring garden in the ground, August's heat is the indication that it's time to plant the fall garden.

David Nagel, horticulture specialist with the Mississippi State University Extension Service, said now is the time to plant tomatoes, peppers, squash, sweet corn, peas and beans.

"Summer gardens typically wind down in early August when the temperatures start being consistently above 95 degrees," Nagel said. "That's when you clean the garden out and plant the fall garden."

Some gardeners may hesitate to uproot plants that are still producing or still look healthy, but Nagel said most garden plants quit producing about August.

Exceptions are eggplant and okra that like the heat. The rest tend to try to stay alive rather than produce fruit, and fight battles with insects and disease.

Start the fall garden by either plowing under the existing plants or rooting them out and composting them. Let gardens that are plowed under sit for one week to give the plant material time to decompose.

If plants are removed, the garden can be replanted immediately. Reestablish the beds if necessary, making sure the rows are in good shape.

"As you plant your fall garden, make sure you don't put plants from the same family on the same soil where another family member was planted in the spring," Nagel said. "Follow a two-year rotation where you move plants from each family into a different spot each season."

Plant families include the cabbages, with cabbage, broccoli, cauliflower and greens; Solanaceae, or sun-loving, that includes tomatoes, peppers, eggplant and Irish potatoes; vines; and others, which are plants such as okra, sweet potatoes and corn that don't fit into one of the other families.

Fall gardens are planted in the same varieties as are used

Bay High Art Teacher Ann Adele Nettles, the former Ann Adele Blackledge, and her husband Brian combined business with pleasure this summer in a trip that took them first to Key West and then on to Japan. The Nettles were two of six American potters to be chosen to show their work at a show in Tokoname, Japan, at the Gallery Kyouei-Gama, one of the leading ceramic galleries in Japan. The show was a sellout and the couple were invited to do two more shows at other galleries.

For the past two summers the couple has been going to an international ceramics workshop put on by artist Jay Gogin in Key West, Florida. The Nettles met Gogin at a pottery demonstration at the George Ohr Museum and he invited them to the workshop. This year there were participants from over 12 countries, Ann Adele said.

"I didn't realize that it was even a possibility that we would be chosen for the show in Japan," said Ann Adele.

Brian went to Tokoname two weeks before Ann Adele to transport their work and set it up. The pieces went over with a preliminary bisque finish which removed most of the moisture and made it fairly safe to travel, said Brian. Ann Adele followed for another two week stay.

Once in Japan, the pieces were fired in a massive wood kiln, an anagama, dug into the ground and fired with wood for three days. The pieces then have to cool for three days, making this method a very lengthy process.

The kiln at Tokoname held about 1,000 pieces, Brian said. The wood kiln at the Key West workshop was smaller, only about 20 feet long, he said.

The wood itself gives the piece its glaze, usually a natural finish in browns, oranges, and grays.

The wood kiln is a long tradition in Tokoname, Ann Adele said. The town has long been a center for the ceramics industry in Japan, with a 1000 year history. About 80 percent of the population of 5,300 are employed in some aspect of the ceramic industry, she said. The whole town is centered around ceramics and produced ceramic jugs for shu-shu, a popular alcoholic beverage, for centuries. Now many of the old jugs were recycled to make walls and other structures.

"It seemed like the whole town attended the opening," said Ann Adele. "There are not many tourists in Tokoname, mostly just those interested in the ceramics industry, so everyone wanted to see the foreign-

TEN YEARS AGO

August 29, 1991 - The State Commission on Wildlife Fisheries and Parks voted Wednesday to ban gill and trammel nets within 1500 feet of the county shoreline from the Bay Bridge to Bayou Cadet (Caddy) effective Oct. 1.

Bureau of Marine Resources (BMR) public relations spokesman Ron Grove said BMR recommended the 1,500 feet from shoreline option to the commission because it was the only option that pleased both the board of supervisors and fishermen.

Public meetings by the Hancock County Board of Supervisors and the City of Bay St. Louis are at present inaccessible to handicapped citizens.

According to Bay and county workers should a handicapped citizen wish to attend a meeting, advanced notice of intent should be given so that sheriff's department deputies or city police officers can be present and carry the citizen up to the second floor room at the courthouse or City Hall.

August 27, 1981 - Residents of the Diamondhead Community are now pondering the advantages and disadvantages of incorporation as a city or town. Purcell, Inc., of Pinehurst, N.C. - the developing company formerly named Diamondhead Corp. - by contract must transfer ownership of amenities such as the club house, golf course, tennis courts, swimming pools, streets and drainage to the Diamondhead Club and Property Owners Association by June 30, 1985.

Computer Services Corporation has received a possible $40 million contract from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for continued technical support at the National Space Technology Laboratories in Hancock County.

A $8 million one-year contract includes options for four annual renewals. The company values the award at $40 million over the five-year period if all options are exercised. Under the contract, Computer Services will provide a wide range of technical services to NASA and other federal and state agencies residents at the facility.

Winless Hawks open practice. The North Central Hawks began practicing for the coming football season Monday with 20 to 25 returning lettermen from last year's team expected.

Head Coach Claude Renfro, in his first year at Hancock, reported practices rather slim with 11 boys out so far, but expects to have more within a few weeks.

Are you ready for some football?

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

It always happens down south about this time of the year. Husbands begin to ignore all the honey-do-list things, wives become agitated, kids begin to dream, and the sabbath switches to another day and time. It depends on what kind of worshipper you are. If you like high school football, then it is a Friday night "under-the-lights" service. If you are a college football fan, then you make your way to the temples of Vaught-Hemingway, Scott Field, or M.M. Roberts Stadium for Saturday worshipping. And, if you are a professional football fan, Sunday afternoon takes the place of the traditional morning service.

At any rate, when the air becomes a little bit crisper and the leaves begin to change, you know it is time for FOOTBALL! And, Hancock County is not any different than the rest of the country. The husbands still ignore the lists, wives become upset, and the kids dream big dreams.

Oh Friday, August 31, the high school football season opens. The next day college football goes nationwide. On Sunday, NFL teams are trimming their rosters and preseason is over.

Bay High, Hancock, Pass High, and St. Stanislaus all open their seasons on Friday. Bay High and SSC remain rather stable in their class. Pass High makes the jump to Class 4A this year while Hancock leaps up to the bigtime and Class 5A football. Coaches and players have been leaving it all on the field during the summer two-a-days trying to prepare for the season opener. And, it is finally here! Are you, the fans, ready for some football?

Bay High finished the season at 3-8 last year but return some bright stars in 2001. Gone are speedy wideout-Tristan Haynes, workhorse Aaron Fromeyer, and stout Willie Whavers. However, Adam Barrett returns to lead his team, along with Tim Wright and Charles Hawkins.

Barrett will line up at quarterback and linebacker this year for the Tigers. Adam returns for a senior season and hopes to follow his older brother, Ty, into the collegiate football ranks. Hawkins is a running back and outside linebacker for the Tigers. Wright is a big target for Barrett at tight end and punter. Last season, Wright averaged 41.2 yards per punt and may be the Coast's top player at that position.

Barrett, Hawkins, and Wright lead a squad that returned eight seniors on offense and six on defense. Returning starters on the line are Miguel Graves, Brent Pitre, and Kenny Smith.

In the summer, Bay High went to Mississippi State's 7-on-7 passing camp and won the Class 3A/4A division. The Tigers need to use that momentum as they travel to Long Beach on Friday. The Tigers will have their hands full with Eddie Berger and the Bearcats. Berger appears to be the Coast's top returning quarterback this season.

We'll soon see if Barrett and company can keep the momentum going from a great summer program and turn the Bearcats away on Friday.

Some people say that Hancock has been dealt a bad hand by being placed in Class 5A and in a non-Coast region for football. However, if you listen closely at what is being said in Kiln, the players and coaches are ready to embrace the challenge that awaits them.

Hancock lost 2000 Sea Coast Echo Offensive Player of the Year Chris Goff, lineman Oren Lewis, linebacker Gary Catalano, lineman Jake Wilson, and lineman Josh Ladner to graduation. But, there are some younger players eager to step into their shoes.

Junior quarterback Brandon Necaise returns for his third season under center. Senior offensive tackle Donny Moran returns to protect Necaise. Chase Sackett, an all-around player who never comes out of the game is back for his final campaign. Other notable returning players are Ervin Jackson, Jed Duke, and Ricky Underwood.

Necaise and the other Hawks have embraced the pressure that is now bestowed upon Hancock and they relish the opportunity to prove the naysayers wrong. He and the Hawks will have many chances to do that this season as they will tangle with 5A powers Brandon, Hattiesburg, Meridian, Natchez, and others. The Hawks dress out 65 players with only six seniors returning from a 9-3 campaign in 2000. Some say that may be a hindrance; however, people seem to forget that Rocky Gaudin returns to the sidelines to prowl for the Hawks. Gaudin will have his troops ready, despite what people say.

Hancock opens the season with a trip to Picayune to take on the Maroon Tide. It is a familiar opponent for Hancock and one that returns quite a few athletes from 2000.

Pass High made the jump to Class 4A after a 5-6 season in Class 3A in 2000. While the Pirates are the smallest 4A school in their region, it doesn't mean they can't compete. The Pirates have played against long-time Class 4A members St. Stanislaus and Bay High. And, they have fared rather well.

The Pirates lost all-around player Andrew Moffett, lineman Michael Ulrich, and linebacker Myles Wagner to graduation. But, they do return a bevy of talent in four-year starter Calvin Woods, speedy wideout Richard Dedeaux, defensive lineman Jason Lizana, and hard-hitting junior Maurice Hardnette.

Woods has been called the heart of the team by his coach Bo Vanderbruegge. Woods may very well be the most underrated player on the Coast. Vanderbruegge said that Woods has an "innate ability to lead." As the Pirates make the jump, Woods will have to shoulder the leadership role on the field.

Dedeaux was Woods' favorite target early last year before an injury sent Dedeaux to the sideline. The Pirates are hoping that he can regain the form he had last year when he caught 26 passes for 526 yards in just five games.

Hardnette and Lizana return to help lead the Pirate defense that was hurt by graduation. Depth is a concern for Vanderbruegge and his staff on defense. Pass High have just three returning starters on defense when they add Rovel Thomas to the mix.

Pass High opens the season with an improved Pearl River Central squad. The Pirates will open their season at home on Friday at MacDonald Field.

If Bay High, Hancock, and Pass High are all looking to replace some key cogs in 2001, then St. Stanislaus has a major undertaking in front of them. After three straight winning seasons, SSC loses some big guns. Four-year starters Jason Santiago, Kris Cannon, Cameron Byrne, and Hunter Dawkins have departed. Other key losses are Neil Favre, JR Willis, Mike Ryan, Joe Bruno, Taylor LaFontaine, and Brandon Rayborn.

Santiago and Cannon hold virtually every offensive record at SSC while Byrne wreaked havoc on opposing offenses with 501 career tackles - an unofficial Mississippi State record. Dawkins was everything and more as a football player, but never received the glory that his teammates did. Favre, Willis, Ryan, Bruno, LaFontaine, and Rayburn all carved their own niche in the SSC football tradition.

SSC head coach Dave Kenson put it bluntly, "We graduated over 10,000 yards of offense and 1000 tackles."

But, the future is bright for SSC. With returning lettermen Gabe Willis, Frederick Mallini, Bob Bass, and Sean Benoit, the Rocks add Jeremy Lewis, Rob Smith, Matt Chester, Aaron White, Zach Mellon, and Kit Stovall to form a solid nucleus. The Rocks have just 10 seniors on the squad.

Lewis is the heir apparent to Santiago at quarterback. Willis and Benoit look to shoulder most of the load at wideout. Chester and Smith will work at running back. White, Mellon, and Stovall return to provide some experience at the defensive line. Mallini and Bass return to anchor an offensive line for the Rocks that could turn out to be a strong point.

The Rocks open the 2001 season on the road against St. John in Gulfport. Kenson said he is pleased with the growth of some of the younger players during the summer program. On Friday, it will be time to see what the growing pains have produced for the Rocks.

Once again, the Sea Coast Echo will choose players of the week on offense and defense from the previous week's games. The players chosen and their accomplishments from Friday's game will appear in this column each week. Also, at the end of the season, the Sea Coast Echo will honor players chosen for the 2001 All-Sea Coast Echo team.

So, wives put away those lists because the husbands can't read during the months of September through November. Best of luck to all coaches, players, and teams during the 2001 gridiron season. May you always play your best in victory and defeat! All games are scheduled for a 7:30pm kickoff. See you at the game!

Beerwood pleased with results

Pearl River Community College head men's and women's soccer coach Adam Beerwood was pleased with his team's efforts in a preseason "warm-up" tournament played Saturday at the new Gulfport Sports Complex and hosted by Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Breerwood's Lady Wildcats, who finished its 2000 season as South Division champions and runners-up to Hinds for the state championship, defeated Copiah-Lincoln 1-0, lost to Mississippi Gulf Coast 3-0, and battled Jones to a 0-0 deadlock in the day-long event. The Wildcats, on the other hand, finished the day with two ties (1-1 with Co. Lin., 0-0 with Jones) and a hard-fought 1-0 victory over Gulf Coast.

There was bad news for the Lady Wildcats, as All-State sophomore sweeper Ashley Foster of Bay High suffered a knee injury in the tournament and will be sidelined indefinitely.

"Last year, Ashley was the heart and soul of our defense," said Beerwood. "We don't know the exact extent of her injury, but losing her temporarily or not is a tremendous setback for us."

In addition, sophomore forward Ashley Ponder of Bay High, a starter and leading scorer last season, suffered a quadriceps injury in the tournament, while freshman Mandy French of Bay High has been hampered with heel problems since reporting to preseason camp two weeks ago.

"We're just not very healthy right now. We're battling injuries and the season hasn't even officially got underway. Unfortunately, we aren't very blessed with depth," Beerwood continued, "but we've still got a lot of experience on the field from last year. If our new people can come around, I feel we can put something together and get back into the playoffs."

In the men's action, Copiah-Lincoln went up 1-0 in the opening two minutes of the contest off a penalty kick, but PRCC tied it up with 5:00 left off a goal by freshman Dima Starodubets of Hattiesburg High.

Against Gulf Coast, Oak Grove freshman and Alabama-Huntsville transfer Tyson Rimes scored in the first 45 seconds of the game to ice the victory.

"Overall, I was pleased with the guys' performance," Beerwood said. "The Jones tie was a very, very physical game...typical of such a huge rivalry. I was particularly pleased with the fact that our guys gradually improved as the day wore on. By the time the Gulf Coast game rolled around, we were cooking. We are heading in the right direction."

The Wildcats officially open their 2001 season Wednesday, Sept. 5, against Itawamba in Fulton, while their home opener is set for Saturday, Sept. 8, against Mississippi Delta, a team that holds an undefeated record over PRCC. The Lady Wildcats' season officially opens Tuesday, Sept. 11, against Jones in Ellisville, while their home opener is set for Saturday, Sept. 15, against Co-Lin.

"The tournament was a good thing for everybody concerned," Beerwood said. "You get the chance to truly evaluate your players under fire. Despite our girls suffering injuries, it was a productive day as a whole."

Breerwood is assisted by assistant coach Chris D'Ambrosio.

Fish Class Championship Trophy is restored

The recently restored John G. Curren Fish Class Championship Trophy was on display August 30 at a luncheon at the Gulfport Yacht Club for Coast sailors.

Sailors will compete on Oct. 27 and 28 at Buccaneer Yacht Club on Mobile Bay to determine this year's champion. Representatives of the seven Coast clubs were in attendance at the luncheon and were able to view the sterling silver trophy, which is an exact replica of a Fish Class sloop.

Restoration of the trophy was in memory of a well-loved sailor and also for the purpose of recognizing and preserving the significant importance the Fish Class held in sailing and racing in the northern Gulf and in the lives of so many individual members of GYA yacht clubs.

Each GYA member yacht club owned at least six of the Fish Class boats and competed in the wooden craft for some 50 years. The Fish Class was replaced in 1970 by the Flying Scots, which are still raced interclub and associationwide.

The regatta will only be held once a year with GYA member clubs providing one skipper and two crew members for each of three races. The boat owners have agreed to permit their boats to be used for this special championship. It is anticipated that at least 10 boats will be available for this year's regatta.

All GYA member clubs will be invited to compete.

In the event there are more entries than boats available, entries will be drawn out of a hat, and those not drawn for the current year's regatta will be automatically entered the following year.

The winning yacht club will be presented the trophy to keep for a year and will then return it to the Buccaneer Yacht Club for presentation at the regatta the following year.

The trophy was beautifully crafted by silversmith Ken Bowers of The Quartersmith Shop in New Orleans.

Labor Day safe boating tips

At least 40 people could die in boating and personal watercraft (PWC) accidents in the U.S. over the Labor Day weekend, according to BoatUS, the nation's association of recreational boaters.

"Many lives can be saved by following five simple safety rules," said BoatUS founder Richard Schwartz.

1. Wear your life jacket. Nine out of 10 drowning victims did not. Be sure that children 12 and under wear life jackets any time they are not in the boat's cabin.

2. Don't drink and boat. Many fatal boating accidents involve alcohol abuse by the operator or passengers. Alcohol's effects are intensified on the water.

3. Don't overload your boat with people or equipment. About 30 percent of boating accident fatalities took place on overloaded boats.

4. Know before you go. Get a weather forecast. While underway, observe current conditions and keep a sharp eye out for changing weather patterns.

5. Brush up on your boating safety knowledge. Join the over 150,000 boaters who have taken the free BoatUS Online Safety Course at www.boatus.com.

"PWC users face special problems. While they comprise just 11% of all registered boats, PWCs account for more than 85% of all boating accidents," Schwartz said. Special safety tips include:

- Watch your speed and don't jump wakes.
- Keep a sharp lookout and make sure you stay well clear of other craft.

- Know your state's age requirement for PWC operation (available at www.boatus.com/onlinecourse) and don't lend your PWC to anyone under age.

- Make sure everyone who operates your PWC is aware of safe boating rules. As the owner, you could be held responsible.

State Marine Patrol releases latest statistics: Education on rise, number of accidents down

The Department of Marine Resources State Marine Patrol and the Mississippi Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks recently released the Coast's most accurate and up-to-date boating statistics.

The numbers reveal a decrease in the number of boating accidents and fatalities this year and an increase in the number of Coast residents earning certification through a State Marine Patrol Boat and Water Safety Course.

In 2000, there were 73 boating accidents on the Coast resulting in four fatalities, while this year, as the end of the recreational boating season draws to a close, only 28 accidents and three fatalities have been reported.

"The reason for the decrease in boating accidents in 2001 is the efforts of education and law enforcement," said Col. Terry Bakker, DMR State Marine Patrol commander.

The State Marine Patrol, with 38 officers and 43 vessels, has issued 891 citations while patrolling the Coast's waterways this year. Officers also raise public awareness through speaking engagements, school presentations and community events.

While accidents and fatalities on the Coast have decreased, the number of boaters educated by the State Marine Patrol Boat and Water Safety Bureau is on the rise.

So far this year, the DMR has conducted more than 56 boat and water safety classes and certified more than 680 students. Classes are free and open to the public and all age groups.

In order to operate a motorboat or personal watercraft in Mississippi, those born after June 30, 1980 are required to successfully complete an approved boating safety course and to have a certificate of satisfactory completion in their possession while in operation of the motorboat.

In Mississippi, it is against the law for anyone 12 years of age and under to operate a motorboat or personal watercraft unless they possess a certificate and are accompanied by a parent, guardian or other person who is at least 21 years of age.

To help reduce the risk of a potential accident, the DMR encourages everyone to enroll in a certified boat and water safety course.

The DMR Marine Patrol-sponsored courses have been designed to effectively introduce topics such as boat registration, navigation rules, trawling, first aid response and weather watch into a comprehensive one-day class. The classes are taught locally with many convenient locations.

For more information, to register for classes or to bring a class into your school, call Lt. Frank Wescovich, Director, DMR Boat and Water Safety Bureau at (228) 435-1332 or (228) 432-2820.

The Mississippi Department of Marine Resources is dedicated to enhancing, protecting and conserving marine interests of the State by managing all marine life, public trust wetlands, adjacent uplands and waterfront areas to provide for the optimal commercial, recreational, educational and economic uses of these resources consistent with environmental concerns and social changes. Visit us online at www.dmr.state.ms.us <<http://www.dmr.state.ms.us>>.

HMC's 'Moonlight' to honor Rev. Charles Johnson

The Hancock Medical Center Foundation's gala dinner dance, "Moonlight on the Bay," will honor longtime Board of Trustees President the Reverend Charles R. Johnson.

The 6th annual event takes place Friday, Sept. 7 at the Casino Magic Entertainment Complex. Back by popular demand will be the Bucktown All-Stars, the New Orleans band that kept the dance floor crowded all night last year.

Doors open at 7:30 p.m., followed by dinner at 8. A silent auction will feature art and a wide variety of items and services donated by local merchants and individuals.

In 2002, Reverend Johnson will begin his 35th year of the hospital's governing board. His leadership and vision of excellence resulted in selection by the Mississippi Hospital

Rev. Charles R. Johnson will be honored Sept. 7 at Hancock Medical Center's Moonlight on the Bay gala dinner/dance.

Association as Trustee of the Year in 1999.

"Reverend Johnson is widely respected by the medical staff and community leaders," said HMC Administrator Hal W. Leftwich, FACHE. "Throughout his tenure he has helped solidify business and political relationships to guide the steady growth in size the scope of service at Hancock Medical Center."

Proceeds from the fund-raiser benefit the HMC Foundation, a 501 (c)(3) organization which assists the hospital through the purchase of equipment, furnishings and support of community health initiatives.

The Foundation's Breast Cancer Task Force restricted fund defrays the cost of diagnostic mammography for women who qualify, while thousands of local students benefit from HMC's school clinics.

HMC nurses staff clinics at Hancock and Bay St. Louis high schools, middle schools and Hancock Elementary at no cost to the parents. Reservations for open seating at the black-tie-optional gala are $125 per couple.

Four patron levels are available: Platinum, $1250 (table of 10), Gold, $1000 (table of 8), Silver, $500 (admits 4) and Bronze, $250 (couple).

The Entertainment Complex will be closed from 6:30 until 7:30 p.m. for a special reception honoring patrons hosted by Casino Magic.

For information, call Janet McQueen at 467-8790.

ers." But the attendees obviously were interested in the work being shown, because the Nettles had a sold-out show.

Because this was also the couple's honeymoon (they were married in June), they took some time off of the business aspect of the trip to see a few more spots in Japan, such as Nagoya, Kyoto, and Nara.

"We took the bullet train which goes about 170 miles an hour, very fast, so it's hard to figure just how far we went, about 400 miles in about two hours, I believe," said Ann Adele.

"We saw a lot of temples and shrines," said Ann Adele. "My favorite place was the town of Nara. Deer ran wild in the town and were so tame that you could pet them."

The traditional Japanese house where the couple stayed came complete with floor mats to sleep on and movable walls. "Everything was smaller, the stove, the refrigerator, everything," said Ann Adele.

Both Ann Adele and Brian found the people charming. "The people are very humble, giving and well-mannered," Brian said. "Everyone was quiet and cordial and took great pride in their jobs," she said. "Even if the job was only at a curb store (gas station). They taught me a lot."

Ann Adele said she has come back with many new ideas for projects for her art class and is looking forward to sharing her experience with her students. This is her fourth year at Bay High. The couple have had their gallery, Nettles, in Pass Christian, for about three and a half years. Ann Adele's love is sculpture which incorporates the mixed media's of clay, wood and metal and stone. Brian works full time at the gallery and creates many of the more functional pieces which are popular at the gallery.

Chamber unveils gateways Aug. 30 at the W'land Library

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce will unveil designs for gateways in Hancock County, today, Aug. 30 at 6:30 p.m. at the Waveland Library on Coleman Avenue.

The public is invited to attend. The project was a partnership between the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, the Gulf Coast Community Foundation, the Mississippi Arts Commission and the Mississippi Forestry Commission.

"We are excited to introduce new ideas for gateways in Hancock County," said Chamber Executive Director Carleen Moran.

"We think these ideas capture many of the concepts discussed in the public design meetings and capture Hancock County."

Architect Allison Anderson of Unabridged Architecture and Landscape Architect Michelle Gautier Lee of Singing River Landscaping coordinated the public design workshops and drafted the concepts of the gateways from these design workshops.

"The Chamber looks forward to seeing these plans through to fruition," said Moran.

"We believe that through these ideas we can begin to share with our visitors the very unique characteristics of Hancock County.

Garden -- plant now in the spring. The key to having a successful fall garden is maintaining sufficient water on the young plants.

"These are very small plants with limited roots, and it's very hot," Nagel said. "If the big plants with the big root systems have problems getting enough moisture, the little plants with little root systems will have even more problems."

Nagel recommended gardeners use drip irrigation systems and soaker hoses to keep the plants watered. The root zone of young plants extends 2 to 3 inches deep, and likely will require daily watering to keep moist in August. As the plants mature, water 1 inch weekly.

Early August is the time to plant tomatoes, peppers, squash, sweet corn, peas and beans. Plant things in the cabbage family from about Aug. 20 to the middle of September.

Nagel said cabbage, broccoli and cauliflower are actually easier to grow in the fall because temperatures have moderated by the time they are ready to produce fruit.

Before planting fall gardens, treat any weed problems that existed in the summer. Find a herbicide labeled for the crops that will be planted. For home gardens, Nagel recommended the herbicide trifluralin, which is sold under such brand names as Treflan, Preen and Trilin.

"Insects are more of a problem in the fall than in the spring, so be vigilant," Nagel said. "When you see them, control them by whatever method you deem appropriate."

Wild animals become more of a problem with fall gardens as other plants tend to be drying up and going to seed. A well-watered garden of young plants offers a tempting meal.

Once established, fall gardens typically can grow and produce until the first frost, which in Mississippi ranges from October to December. Winter gardens, usually planted in different types of greens and English peas, can be planted when the fall garden is finished.

To see good fall vegetable gardens, visit the Fall Field

Days in Verona at the North Mississippi Research and Extension Center Sept. 29 or at the Truck Crops Branch Experiment Station in Crystal Springs Oct. 12 and 13.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

August 31, 1951 - A stake was driven Friday, August 24, at Henderson Point to make the formal opening of construction on a $6,061,433 toll bridge across the Bay of St. Louis. Nearly two miles in length, the new bridge will touch land by the Bay St. Louis side, about 2,000 feet north of the present span.

Construction began approximately 1,000 feet north of the hazardous wooden structure on the Henderson Point end. R.M. Hand, project manager for Merritt, Chapman and Scott, New York contractors, drove the miniature piling to officially start the work on the bridge.

SIXTY YEARS AGO

August 29, 1941 - On last Friday evening the members of the local committee on soldier recreation of which Mrs. A. F. Fournier is chairman, entertained 100 cadets from Keesler Field, aviation school at Biloxi. A large party was given in the Woodman of the World Hall, where games and dancing were enjoyed until a late hour. The young ladies were invited to the dance by invitation.

The boys came in Army trucks and were bivouacked on the grounds before the courthouse and in the courthouse where ample accommodations for them were on hand.

Bay High to rely heavily on senior leadership this season

BY MAURICE SINGLETON, JR.
Contributing Writer

The Bay High Tigers varsity football team is approaching the 2001 season with a fair amount of confidence in a roster that lists eleven seniors and experience on both sides of the ball. "I think we have progressed well from last year," said second year head coach Glenn Williams. "Our kids have worked hard this summer."

"We are on schedule," added Williams. "We still have a little work defensively; offensively we're where we need to be."

The Tigers won their division at the Mississippi State seven-on-seven camp, winning ten of eleven games, defeating a team out of Florida for the championship.

Ten seniors are expected to line up behind the ball when the Tigers handle their first snap on the road at Long Beach on Friday night. Quarterback Adam Barrett, who has started at linebacker since his freshman season, will begin his second season as the Tiger signal caller. Charles Hawkins, Terrace Thomas, and Monroe Jordan, the lone junior in the starting lineup, will share the ruhing load in an offense that is expecting to run the majority of the time.

"We'll pass a lot more than we did last year," Williams explained. "We have the opportunity to pass more. Our offensive line has improved tremendously. I think that's going to be the key."

Providing the foundation for Williams' ground assault are Josh Dastugue at center, Kenny Smith and Brent Pitre at guards, Miguel Graves and Seth Weigel at tackles, and Timmy Wright and Michael Simpkins will bring in plays at the tight-end position.

Terry Lewis and Johnny Hozey will complete the Tigers' offense at the wide receiver positions.

Defensively, the Tigers are an experienced group, returning seven seniors, including several players who will be starting on offense. Juniors Jake Pearce and Jordan, sophomores Jacob Higdon and Shawn Moran and freshman Lorenzo Lewis are expected to play in the Tigers starting defensive rotation.

"I think the defense will be ahead of last year," added Williams. "The opening game (Long Beach) will be a test."

The Long Beach team runs a wide open offense that throws as much as it runs. And they are a 5A school with more players and depth.

"Our defense is going to have to be ready," said Williams. "We're going to have to be ready both mentally and physically."

The Tigers home opener is the following week hosting 2A opponent St. John. The Tigers travel to former district rival Pearl River Central on September 14.

The Tigers begin a three-game home series on September 21st, hosting district opponent East Central. Crosstown and district rival St. Stanislaus visit McCullough Stadium on September 28, and Forrest County on October 5.

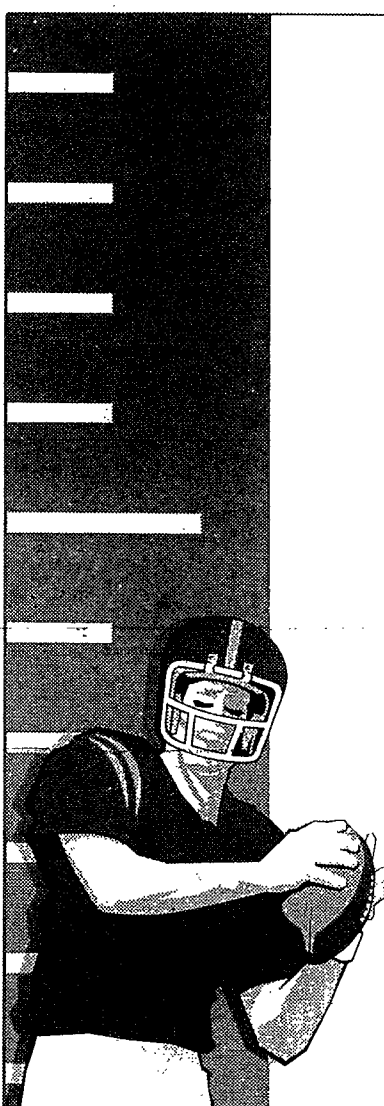

The Tigers close out the season with four district games, three on the road. The Tigers travel to Gautier on October 12 and D'Iberville on October 19.

The Tigers will be at home to play the newly elevated 4A rival Pass Christian on October 26. And they close out regular season play at Vancleave on November 2nd.

Fire Dogs named all-conference

The Mississippi Fire Dogs of the National Indoor Football League, NIFL, announced the following players and staff have been selected to the Atlantic Coast Conference All Star Team: Quarterback Derrick Taite, Defensive Lineman Jimmie Myles, Offensive Lineman Kasey Keith and Kicker Tim Hardaway were named to the first team.

Head Coach Irvin Favre was selected as the Conference Coach of the Year and General Manager John Tapper was named as Executive of Year. The awards were given at the league meeting in Nashville, Tenn. last Friday. The league also presented the All NIFL Team, MVP, Player and Coach of the Year awards at the league meetings.

Rocks look to fill graduation gaps in 2001

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

Things are going to look a great deal different on the St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaw gridiron this season. Over 10,000 yards of offense are gone, as well as, over 900 tackles on defense. One might question those numbers, if they did not know what players were behind them during the past four seasons at SSC. But, we will get to that in a second.

SSC head coach Dave Kenson and his staff have the daunting task of replacing players that have been starters for the past three or four years. However, despite losing some depth and experience on the squad, Kenson and his staff are excited about some of the newcomers and key returning players on the Rock-a-chaw football team for 2001.

Kenson stated, "Coming into summer camp, we knew we had some holes to fill. We graduated some players that meant a tremendous amount to our team. As a staff, we like our depth on defense. Our offensive line could be a strong point for us. We have some strong receivers on offense. Our kicker, Michael Kivlan has been progressing well on special teams. But, I think the main thing that our staff has noticed is the attitude. It has been a plus for us so far in summer camp. We are working hard to keep the attitude a positive."

The Rocks have been on a football high the past three seasons with records of 7-5, 8-3, and 6-5. SSC graduated several key players in 2000 that helped achieve those records. The Rocks lost four-year starters Jason Santiago at quarterback, running back Kris Cannon, linebacker Cameron Byrne, and OL/DL Hunter Dawkins. Other top seniors that have departed the Rocks' ranks are OL/DL Neil Favre, WR/DB Grady Willis, WR/DB Mike Ryan, OL/LB Joe Bruno, P/K Taylor

LaFontaine, and WR Brandon Rayborn.

Santiago left SSC as only the fourth player in Coast history to throw for more than 4,000 yards in a career. He threw for over 4,700 yards including a school record 1,635 yards in 2000. Cannon is the school's most prolific runner compiling over 4,200 yards on the ground during his four years in a Rock uniform. He rushed for a school record 1,619 yards in 1999 and gained over 5,600 all-purpose yards in his career. Byrne is the school's all-time tackles leader tallying 501 hits in his four years. That number is an unofficial state record. Byrne recorded a school record 161 tackles in 2000. Dawkins, the spiritual leader of the team, performed his own method of war in the trenches for the Rocks at the offensive and defensive line positions. What Dawkins did for SSC can't be measured in statistics and will never be equaled.

Favre was a three-year player on the line for the Rocks and was an unsung hero while others claimed the stats and fame. Willis leaves SSC with 1,079 receiving yards in two years. Willis was ranked fourth in Class 4A with 608 yards in 2000. Joe Bruno recorded over 100 tackles in 2000 to complement Byrne on the other side of the linebacking corps. Ryan was primarily used in the defensive backfield in his only year of varsity football; however, Ryan was a vital cog on defense for the Rocks.

Rayborn provided a big target for Santiago at wide receiver. He was a two-way player and started at outside linebacker for the Rocks last season. LaFontaine excelled in the kicking game making the All-Sea Coast Echo team. LaFontaine, an accurate kicker up to 40 yards, gave the Rocks a serious scoring threat from the outside.

Some key returning players for the Rocks in 2001 are Gabe Willis, Sean Benoit, Fred Mallini, Bob Bass, and Kit Stovall. All had extensive varsity action in 2000 and give the Rocks a good starting point at several positions. Willis, a junior, will see time at wide receiver and defensive back. Benoit, a senior, will line up at wide receiver and defensive back. Mallini, a junior, and Bass, a sophomore, will help anchor the offensive line. Stovall, a junior, returns on the defensive line.

Top newcomers to the varsity level are Lee Klein, Michael Cure, Kevin Tinsley, Jeremy Lewis, Rob Smith, Zach Mellon, Aaron White, Ryan Williamson, and Herman Johnson. Klein and Cure are freshman linebackers who are looking to burst onto the Rock gridiron much like Bruno and Byrne did several years ago. Tinsley is a sophomore center that is new to SSC. Lewis, a junior, will be lining up at quarterback and will run the offense. Smith, a sophomore, will line up at running back. Mellon, a junior, is pushing for playing time at offensive/defensive end. White returns to the SSC gridiron after a year's absence at defensive tackle. Williamson, a junior, is making himself known to the coaching staff as a defensive tackle. Johnson, a sophomore, is pushing for a starting guard position on the offensive line.

Kenson commented that his defense this year will be quicker as a unit but he won't have the stars like he has had in the past. An area that concerned Kenson and his staff was getting to the ball better on defense. It is a point that they have been hammering home in each practice. Some other players who are figuring into the depth situation on defense for the Rocks are Jon Murphy, Matt Chester, Mike O'Neal, and Nick Weinmann.

While Kivlan has been excelling in the kicking game for the Rocks, SSC is still looking for a punter. Junior Jeremy Keller has been working hard at the position and is getting most of the reps in practice.

This year the Rocks and the other county schools will be competing in a new district alignment. SSC, Bay High, and Pass Christian will all participate in Division 8 Class 4A along with Gautier, d'Iberville, East Central, and Vancleave. Hancock has moved up to Class 5A. A new twist to the Class 4A ranks is the addition of two more playoff teams and the loss of one regular season game. The top four teams from each division in Class 4A will advance to the state playoffs instead of the traditional top two. Also, to accommodate the additional playoff teams the schedule has been reduced to 10 games instead of 11 as in past years.

Kenson commented about the new district alignment, "Geographically, it is a better district for us. Every game is still a very important game

Echo announces gridiron honors

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The Sea Coast Echo is proud to announce that the newspaper will select an offensive and defensive player of the week from each week of the regular season for football in 2001.

The selections will be based on player performances from Friday's game and will be announced in the following Thursday edition.

Also, the Sea Coast Echo will sponsor an All-Sea Coast Echo football team for 2001. The selections for the team will follow the same guidelines as last year. Head coaches from Bay High, Hancock, Pass Christian, and St. Stanislaus will receive nomination packets during the week of October 7. The nomination packets will need to be returned to the Sea Coast Echo office no later than November 16. The All-Sea Coast Echo football team will be chosen from the nominations received from the coaches and the sportswriters who covered the games. All players nominated will be honored on the first-team or the honorable mention team. Each player nominated will receive a certificate from the Sea Coast Echo newspaper acknowledging his placement on the team. In addition to the All-Sea Coast Echo football team, the paper will choose an Offensive Player of the Year and a Defensive Player of the Year from the nominations. The players of the year will be honored at their awards banquet with a plaque commemorating their selection from the Sea Coast Echo. A staff member from the Sea Coast Echo will be on hand to present certificates and plaques to those honored.

The Sea Coast Echo newspaper would like to be notified of the date, place, and time of each school's awards banquet so that the event will be covered. Best of luck to all players, coaches, and schools as they begin the school year and the high school athletic season.

The Hancock Hawks, rebuilding or reloading?

BY DWAYNE BREMER
Contributing Writer

Are you ready for some football?

The 2001 Hancock Hawks are, and ever since they put together a solid victory in a spring game against the Stone County Tomcats, the Hawks have been looking forward to this week.

The Hawks are coming off a great season in 2000, when they put together a 8-3 record, and played in the Biloxi Shrimp Bowl. This year the Hawks will be a younger team, but the expectations are still high.

The Hawks will welcome back long-time head coach Rocky Gaudin this year. Gaudin, a 25-year veteran of the coaching ranks, stepped down after the 1999 season and gave the reins to assistant Walt Esslinger.

Gaudin spent the 2000 season as the Hawks' athletic director. Over the summer Esslinger took a job in another state, so Gaudin stepped back in for his 11th year as a head coach.

"I really love it or I would not have come back. I love the football, but it's a chance to build the boys into men. We take pride in having a good program instead of just a good team," Gaudin said.

The Hawks will have to go through some growing pains, as they have lost 23 seniors from last year's team.

The Hawks will only field seven seniors this year, but where the Hawks lack in experience the will make up with size.

These guys are big. The offensive and defensive lines are an average of 290 pounds, and the Hawks will return several key position players.

The Hawks should have a solid offensive line anchored by senior Donnie Moran. Moran, a three-year starter, will be a solid force as he takes over as the leader of the new "Trench Diggers".

Steve Guidos and Alan Pace, who both logged heavy minutes for the Hawks last year will start, and Kenny Smitt, Matt Crittenden, Nick Saucier and Peter Trosclair will all get their chance to play along the line.

At quarterback, the Hawks have the best signal caller they have had since Brett Favre. Junior Brandon Necaise has plenty of experience, as well as talent. Necaise has started 21 games for the Hawks, and last year he threw for 16 touchdowns second only in the district to St. Stanislaus quarterback Jason Santiago. Necaise stands 6'2 and weighs 180 pounds, so he is durable also.

Necaise will have some help with some talented skill players in the offense. Ervin "Pookie" Jackson will be the starter at running back. Jackson has also played the last two seasons and shown steady improvement.

Myron Fairley, David

Brown, Eddie Bledsoe, and Darren Elliot will also have a chance to run the ball.

The Hawks will have two or three excellent tight ends also. Junior Rickey Underwood has a lot of ability, and newcomers Matthew Rayborn and James Ball will try to make a splash in the offense.

At wide receiver, Chase Sackett and Jed Duke will have the chance to catch

Pass Christian Pirates step up to 4A excitement

BY GEOFF BELCHER
News Editor

The Pass Christian Pirates are stepping up to 4A play this year – a challenge that head coach Bo VonderBruegge knows will be difficult, but believes will add some much-needed excitement to the program.

This is VonderBruegge's third year as head coach, and each year, the team has moved dramatically ahead. Last year, the Pirates posted a 5-6 season, showing marked improvement over the 1999 season's 1-9 record. Hopefully, he said, this year will be the best yet.

"Our lack of size is going to give us some problems ...," VonderBruegge said. "This year we feel like we don't have as much size as we've had up front in the past, but we feel like we're more athletic than ever before."

And, he said, "This year we've got a lot of experience."

All of the Pirates' defensive backs have started for at least two years and, VonderBruegge said, senior Calvin Woods is back.

"Kalvin is returning at quarterback ... And we're going to do anything we can do to get the ball in his hands."

The 2001 Pirates also have two seniors leading the defense – Jason Lizana and Revell Thomas.

Also returning is middle linebacker Maurice Hardnett, a junior this year.

Another bright spot for the team this year, the coach said, is senior Richard Dedeaux, who will return this year as wide receiver.

Dedeaux went down with a broken leg half-way through the 2000 season, but in the game before the accident, he had received 10 catches for 189 yards.

If Dedeaux can bring that skill back to the team without getting injured this season, VonderBruegge said, it could do wonders for the team's record.

"We feel like getting Richard back at full strength is really going to help out," VonderBruegge said.

Cory Brown is also back this year, the coach said, a sophomore running back with "excellent speed."

As far as the new 4A ranking, VonderBruegge said, "It's probably the toughest schedule we've ever had here in Pass Christian."

"We open with Pearl River, then we have Long Beach – the district schedule is pretty tough."

But, he said, the tougher schedule will ultimately benefit the team.

"We have tried to put a lot more of the local teams on there," he said, "to create some local rivalries and get back some of the excitement for the program that we lost when we were 2 and 3A."

The Pirates open at home against Pearl River Central this Friday, Aug. 31. In October, they will host St. Stanislaus, and will beard the Bay High Tigers in their den on Oct. 26.

Maxfield says Wildcats should rebound in 2001

Expectations are high in Pearl River Community College football circles as first-year head coach Scott Maxfield fields his first edition of Wildcat football this fall.

Maxfield, who was offensive coordinator at Northwest Mississippi the past five seasons, was hired last December to succeed long-time head coach Keith Daniels who died in October of a brain hemorrhage just five games into his sixth season at the Wildcat helm.

Maxfield's "air raid" offense, which is an 80 percent passing scheme, is touted nationwide. He copped Juco "Offensive Coordinator of the Year" honors by American Football Coach magazine in 1999 thanks to the innovative attack, while last year's Ranger team fin-

Pearl River Community College freshman running back Kris Cannon (35) of St. Stanislaus makes an elusive cut in Friday's intrasquad scrimmage on the Poplarville campus. Cannon could see starting action right off the bat as sophomore starter Perry Tisdale of Purvis, who led the Wildcats in rushing last season, dislocated his right elbow in a recent practice and will be out of the line up for 3-4 weeks. ished the season undefeated, averaging 55.9 points running the no-huddle offense.

Maxfield says he has the quality athletes here to take up where he left off at NWCC.

"In my offense, you've got to have a quality quarterback and quality receivers to make things click," Maxfield said. "That won't be a problem this year. We've got a smart, talented quarterback in Charlie Reeve and eight quality receivers with excellent speed."

Reeve, a sophomore from Frisco, Tex.; transferred to PRCC from Abilene, Christian and "understands football," said Maxfield.

"Charlie stacks up with the best quarterbacks I've ever coached," he continued. "He has a strong arm and understands the game. He studies film and does the little things that make you a better player and a better team. He's not going to do something stupid to get you beat."

Three freshmen are battling for the back-up spot in Daniel Forrest of Picayune, Jacob Owen of Pearl River Central, and Garrett Tapper of Petal.

Reeve will utilize a stable of solid receivers, including freshman Ike Chekwa of Harvey, La.; sophomore Aaron Dunklin of St. Stanislaus, freshman Jaron Fountain of Haynes City, Fla.; sophomore Otho Graves of Bassfield, freshman Jonathan Walker of Kennesaw, Ga.; sophomore Derrell Weekly of Water Valley, sophomore Darryel

Williams of Hancock County, and sophomore Logan Williams of Picayune.

"We don't have a lot of height at our receiving positions, but we've got plenty of speed," Maxfield said. "Last year at Northwest, I had a couple of 6-4 or 6-5 guys, but even though we're lacking in size, we should more than make up for the difference in quickness and speed."

At running back, Perry Tisdale of Purvis returns after leading the Wildcats in rushing and scoring with 563 yards and six touchdowns a year ago. But the sophomore will be sidelined for first two-to-three games with a dislocated elbow suffered in a recent scrimmage. Tisdale averaged 5.6 yards carry in 2000.

Taking up the slack in Tisdale's absence are freshmen Kris Cannon of St. Stanislaus and Kiel Angry of Leesburg, Ga.

"The running back position is just as important to my offense as anybody," Maxfield said. "With an 80 percent passing scheme, many people think backs are ignored, but last year at Northwest our top running back was also our No. 2 receiver."

Up front, Maxfield has been pleased with the efforts of redshirt freshman center Jason (Hodie) Cuevas of Purvis and sophomore tackle Bert Hopgood of Bay High, who started all 10 games in 2000. Maxfield noted the remainder of the starting spots on the O-line are still up for grabs.

"Overall, I've been pleased in that area, but we've got lots of work left before our season opener," he continued. "You've got to have consistent blocking to make this offense go and our ultimate goal is to get the most consistent guys up front. They make it happen for everybody else."

On the opposite side of the ball, defensive tackles John Feaster, a sophomore from Picayune, and freshman Jamerio Hickman of Slidell, La., drew praise.

"Those two guys have shown above the others, but as a whole, our defensive front should be solid and rival any in the state," Maxfield said.

Feaster, who is one of the strongest Wildcats in the weight room, finished his freshman campaign with 22 tackles (10 solo, 12 assists), while recording two quarterback sacks.

The linebacking corps is young and inexperienced. In fact, none of the three designated starters have ever played a down at the position in the community college league.

Sophomore Seth Smith of Pearl River Central leads the group in the middle after spending his freshman season as a part time starter at quarterback, while at the outside posts, Dominic Cook of Tunnel Hill, Ga., and Rashaad Goodrum of Fayetteville, N.C., have earned starting berths.

"I've really been impressed with them, despite their inexperience," Maxfield said. "Seth has developed into an excellent leader and has set the example. He's an aggressive kind of player and I expect him to continue his football career after he leaves here. Dominic and Rashaad are very talented players and should develop into impact guys quickly."

Sophomore Davin Roberts of Picayune is the only starter returning to the defensive secondary, while freshmen Hiram Eugene of Jeanerette, La.; Tyree Fooks of Rockledge, Fla.; and Jason Santiago of St. Stanislaus have earned starting assignments.

Roberts grabbed two interceptions as a freshman, while finishing with a fourth-best 29 takes (24 solo, five assists). He also recovered a fumble.

"All of our secondary people run extremely well," Maxfield said. "It'll take a little time for them to adjust to the junior college league, but they're all very athletic and should develop quickly."

Special teams are still up in the air. While freshman Aaron Ready of Petal has performed solidly at the punter position, the place kicking spot is up for grabs between sophomore Matt Hoda of West Marion and freshman Alex Enyon of Petal.

Weekly and Fountain will handle the punt returns for the Wildcats, while Fountain

Pearl River Community College sophomore speedster Darryel Williams (15) of Hancock County bursts down the sideline for a 45-yard touchdown in a recent scrimmage. Williams, affectionately known as "Red Squirrel" by his coaches and teammates, is one of the fastest Wildcats on first-year head coach Scott Maxfield's team, boasting a 4.45-second time in the 40-yard dash. Williams was PRCC's leading kickoff returner last season, averaging 22.5 yards per return. The 5-foot-10, 165-pound running back returned one boot for an 87-yard touchdown last fall against then-No. 7-ranked Southwest, spurring a stunning 20-17 upset victory. Mississippi State Bulldogs step into the spotlight

By RALPH D. RUSSO
AP Sports Writer

STARKVILLE, Miss. (AP) — In relative anonymity, Mississippi State has been the winningest and most consistent team in the Southeastern Conference's Western Division the past three seasons.

The Bulldogs have 26 victories since 1998, but have often felt slighted by poll voters, prognosticators and so-called experts.

Not this year.

Mississippi State begins the 2001 season ranked 20th in the nation, its first preseason ranking since 1993. Led by one of the most dynamic backfields in the country, the Bulldogs are one of the favorites to reach the SEC championship game.

So, after three years of telling everybody they deserve to be mentioned among the best in the country, and proving it on the field, it must feel great to finally be getting a little respect. Right?

"It really don't matter," said 1,000-yard rusher Denczo Miller. "We still know that there's a lot of people out there that don't give us a lot of respect. We still got a lot to prove. The last two years we had a chance to win the West and we didn't. This year, we're hungry."

The Bulldogs had a trip to Atlanta for the league title game in their sights last season before losing the final two regular season games.

Injuries played a big part in the late fade, especially on defense where the Bulldogs lacked the depth they had relied so heavily upon in the previous two seasons.

Recognizing that, and having to replace about a half dozen significant contributors from last year's defense, coach Jackie Sherrill signed nearly a dozen junior college players.

When asked how many of the 11 JC signees would get meaningful playing time, Sherrill replied "All of them," without hesitation.

"I got a feeling them boys, they're real good," senior safety Pig Prather said.

Prather is back after a major knee injury ended his 2000 season with a game still to play.

By all accounts he's back to full speed and ready to resume his roll as top playmaker on coordinator Joe Lee Dunn's frenetic defense.

Prather had 11 tackles for loss, including five sacks, forced three fumbles, recovered two fumbles and picked off a pass in 2000. He and free safety Josh Morgan are the holdovers in the five-man secondary and could be joined by three junior college transfers.

Cornerbacks Corey Banks and Demetric Wright were penciled in to the starting lineup as soon as they signed with Mississippi State.

Linebacker Mario Haggan came out of nowhere last season to become the team's most consistent defensive player. This season, stardom is expected.

"I'm not scared to be on the field anymore," he said. "There were times last year I was nervous to make a mistake. I know if I make a mistake now, I can come back and make a bigger play to make up for that mistake."

Dorsett Davis is the lone returnee from a very good defensive line, but he may also be the best of the bunch.

Sherrill says the 6-foot-6, 314-pound Davis is one of the best he has ever coached, an uncanny combination of size, strength and athleticism.

"He's not a normal athlete," said Sherrill, who enters his 11th season as the school's career leader in victories.

Taking a not so normal approach, Mississippi State was the top rushing team in the SEC in 2000. Miller and junior Dontae Walker shared duties at tailback last season.

Miller ran 160 times for 1,005 yards and Walker 148 for 795. They combined for 21 TDs. The roommates will again share the position this season, putting aside egos and stats.

"I'm a team player. Whatever they want me to do I'll do," Miller said.

All Wayne Madkin has done since being installed as the Bulldogs' starter as a freshman is win. The senior has started 23 victories.

Once a target for criticism among fans who blamed him for the team's offensive woes, Madkin is now considered a reliable triggerman for an offense that averaged 31.5 points per game last season.

"This is my final season here. Hopefully we will be part of something special and go out with a bang," he said.

If the Bulldogs are still feeling a bit under appreciated, they'll have a chance early on to show their stuff to the nation. Two of their first three games will be shown on ESPN, one on Labor Day night, the other on a Thursday night.

"Preseason rankings don't mean anything. It's not how you begin, it's how you finish," Haggan said. "If we finish better than where we started, then it's going to be a great season."

Mississippi State University quick view

By The Associated Press

A quick look at the 2001 Mississippi State Bulldogs:
Coach: Jackie Sherrill
11th season (67-48-2), 23rd overall (172-93-4).

Home stadium: Scott Field.

2000 record: 8-4, 4-4; t-3rd SEC West.

2000 postseason: Defeated Texas A&M 43-41, OT, in Independence Bowl.

Returning starters: eight offense; five defense.

Impact players-offense: RB Denczo Miller; RB Dontae Walker; QB Wayne Madkin; C Tommy Watson.

Impact players-defense: DT Dorsett Davis; DOG Pig Prather; LB Mario Haggan; FS Josh Morgan.

Best bets: Everybody's talking about the Bulldogs' Sept. 29 date in the "Swamp" with Florida, but the LSU game Oct. 20 will be bigger in the Western Division race At least three times, Miller and Walker will rush for over 100 yards in the same game The Bulldogs will be slighted when bowl bids are handed out.

Question marks: Can a stable of talented junior college transfers plug all the defenses holes and provide depth that was lacking in 2000? Who among the plethora of fast and skilled receivers will become a go-to guy? Can the Bulldogs make it two in a row over the Gators?

Young USM Golden Eagles looking to soar again

By RALPH D. RUSSO
AP Sports Writer
HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP) — The Southern Mississippi Golden Eagles are mingling with fans, signing autographs and posing for pictures outside M.M. Roberts Stadium.

It's Meet the Eagles Day and all the players are in uniform, the seniors in their white jerseys, the rest in black.

There are few white jerseys in the crowd.

Southern Miss will be young in 2001. There will be new starters all over the defense and unproven players expected to contribute on both sides of the ball. Others who have shown glimmers of ability, but have been unable to find consistency, are expected to mature into leaders.

"We've got a lot of young guys that are ready and hungry," said safety Chad Williams, one of the 13 seniors.

Williams is also one of only four returning starters on a defense that ranked among the very best in the nation last season.

The stocky former running back was the team's leading tackler last season, though playing with celebrated all-conference seniors like Cedric Scott, Leo Barnes and Raymond Walls he went somewhat unnoticed.

That won't be the case this season.

"He understands what we're trying to do and he is our quarterback in the secondary," coach Jeff Bower said. "I think if you ask any coach in this league, they all know a lot about him."

Williams is the only full-time starter returning in the secondary and even he won't be in the same spot as last season, shifting from free safety to strong safety.

"That position is the pivotal point of the defense," the 5-foot-10, 200-pounder said. "He's called on to make a lot of plays and make a lot of checks."

Since Conference USA began playing football in 1996, the Golden Eagles have held a monopoly on the league's defensive player of the year award. Williams could keep that streak going, but he may have competition from teammate Rod Davis, who seems destined to win that honor at least once before taking his game to the next level.

Davis was one of the top freshman defensive players in the country last season, finishing third on the team in tackles (94) from his middle linebacker spot.

First-year defensive coordinator Tyrone Nix, a pretty good linebacker during his playing days with the Eagles, says the 6-3, 238-pound Davis could be the school's best linebacker ever.

The 28-year-old Nix replaces Dave Wommack, who left for Arkansas, and is one of the youngest coordinators in Division I-A. He is charged with upholding a tradition of stellar defense and doing so with an entirely rebuilt defensive line.

"We are going to continue to do what we've done in the past, swarm to the ball," he said.

The defense carried Southern Miss through most of last year's 8-4 season, as the offense never clicked. And when the defense proved vulnerable down the stretch, so were the Golden Eagles. After losing just two conference games in the previous four seasons and winning or sharing three league crowns, Southern Miss fell to 4-3 in C-USA, dropping three of its last four.

Injuries played a part in the Golden Eagles demise, but an offense that turned the ball over 23 times, rarely sustained a running game and couldn't protect its quarterback was mostly to blame.

The running game could be in trouble again as Derrick Nix, who ran for over a 1,000 yards in each of his first two seasons, will miss the entire season. Nix sprained his ankle early last season. Then the anti-inflammatory medication he was taking caused a kidney ailment that made him to severely swell. He appeared in just five games.

Still recovering, the senior was forced to redshirt this season. In his absence, the Golden Eagles are hoping senior Dawayne Woods, a shifty but small 5-foot-7, 187-pound back can carry the load.

Quarterback Jeff Kelly is back for his senior year, which in itself is remarkable considering the beating he took last season. The Golden Eagles allowed 60 sacks.

Tough and smart, Kelly threw for 2,381 yards and 15 TDs despite constant duress. Keeping the heat of their field leader could determine whether the Golden Eagles regain a place atop C-USA.

"We think we can do that," Kelly said. "We think we have the players on both sides of the ball to get back on top of this conference."

Dreams come in all shapes and sizes.

Golden Eagles quick view

By The Associated Press

A quick look at the 2001 Southern Mississippi Golden Eagles: Coach: Jeff Bower 11th season (67-47-1). Home stadium: M.M. Roberts Stadium. 2000 record: 8-4, 4-3; 4th Conference USA. 2000 postseason: defeated TCU Colorado State 28-21 in Mobile Bowl. Returning starters: 10 offense; four defense Impact players: offense: RB Dawayne Woods; QB Jeff Kelly; WR LeRoy Handy; RB/WR Tim Blackwell. Impact players: defense: S Chad Williams; MLB Rod Davis; OLB Roy Magee. Best bets: The Golden Eagles will finish better than fourth in C-USA, where they ended up last seasons. Despite a lack of experience, the defense will be among the best in the conference. Kelly, one of the toughest QBs in the country, will take some shots, but never back down.

passes from Necaise.

"We will be able to move the ball. We don't have the home run hitter like Chris Goff, but we have a lot of talent at the skill positions," Gaudin said.

On defense, coach Andy Pernicario likes what he sees so far. "We are going to be pretty good. We have plenty of depth, and our speed and size is better than in previous years," Pernicario said.

The Hawk defense will boast of a solid line. The defensive line will be made up of Donnie Moran, Cornelius Thomas, Kenny Smith, Alan Pace, Peter Trosclair, and others. The Hawks will be solid at line-backer, as Underwood and Elliot will anchor the corps.

The Hawks will have no problem with sending in the field goal team this year. Chase Sackett will return as the place kicker, coming off of a fine year in 2000.

The Hawks may have a better team this year, but their record may not show it. The Hawks are faced with their toughest schedule in recent history, as they will move up to Class 5A.

The Hawks will open the season at rival Picayune, and they will play state powers Wayne County, Petal, Hattiesburg, Brandon, and Natchez during the season.

One thing remains the same, however, as the Hawks will play rival St. Stanislaus in week two. Over the past five years the Hancock-St. Stanislaus matchup have all been knock-down, drag-them-out games. The rivalry has gotten very intense, making for some excellent football.

Last year the Hawks barely escaped with a fourth quarter victory. This year's game promises to be a good one also.

Sadly, the Hawks will not play the Bay High Tigers this year, for the first time in 28 years. The Tigers refused to play the Hawks and chose to end one of the best rivalries in Coast football. The Tigers had won two of the last three against the Hawks. The Hawks will be at home in "The Nest" Sept. 14 when they play the Ocean Springs Greyhounds.

"We are looking forward to the season. Our kids are excited, and we feel like it's going to be a lot of fun."

much about their teams but they have been competitive in the past. Also, we carry a strong non-division schedule. St. John is a very strong 2A school and we follow them up with three straight 5A competitors in Hancock, Ocean Springs, and Long Beach."

"The addition of two more playoff teams gives each team something to play for in the second half of the season. Four out of the seven from the district will go."

The Rocks will continue to run a similar offense as in the past which is a balance between the run and the pass. They will continue to challenge opposing defenses with new looks and alignments as in the past. The Rocks' defense alignment has changed to what is called a Bear defense. There will be different alignments on the defensive front and linebacking corps according to what the opposing offense is doing.

The Rocks are fully staffed with coaches, trainers, and doctors for the 2001 season. Dave Kenson returns for his fifth season at the helm of the Rock program. Stan Dellenger is in his seventh year as defensive coordinator. Matt Burris is a first-year coach with the Rocks. Brian Keys, Andy Kivlan, Richie Santiago, Will Seymour, and Mike Stumpf all return to the staff. Matt Burke and Scott Wilson return as managers for the team. The trainer is Troy Pepperman and Dr. Craig Dawkins is the team's physician.

Kenson ended, "We are very fortunate to have assembled a staff that has great chemistry and is fun to work with. It is my assistants and the full staff that make football out here fun for us. The attitude of the players during summer practice has been great and we are focusing on keeping that mindset intact as school starts."

With all the holes to fill from graduation, the SSC coaching staff has their shovels in hand. The start of the season is just a week away. Break out the chair-back stadium seats and get ready for some football!

The Eli era begins at Ole Miss with hope and questions

By RALPH D. RUSSO
AP Sports Writer
OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — The wait is over. The Eli Manning era begins in Mississippi this season.

After two years of seasoning, the sophomore quarterback has been given the controls to coach David Cutcliffe's offense, and the Ole Miss faithful are giddy about having the son of their favorite son leading the Rebels.

All the good feelings aside, the reality is Archie Manning's youngest child has yet to start a college game and there are questions about much of his supporting cast.

"He's a very prepared football player," Cutcliffe said of Manning.

But the coach also had this reminder about Manning: "The last time he started a football game was at Isidore Newman High School in New Orleans."

The Rebels' must replace their career leaders in passing (Romaro Miller), rushing (Deuce McAllister) and receiving (Grant Heard).

They expect Manning-to-Miller will be a smooth transition.

"There's nothing new I have to learn about this offense," Manning said.

The Rebels have a stable of young, fast receivers that will grow along with Manning.

But replacing McAllister's big-play ability will be a tall order.

It's easy to forget that in 1999 it was Joe Gunn, not McAllister who led the Rebels in rushing.

Gunn, a senior, never emerged from McAllister's shadow in 2000. He ran for only 382 yards and 3.1 yards per carry.

"I don't think you saw Joe Gunn," Cutcliffe said. "It just kind of got away from him as the year went on. I think you'll see the Joe Gunn of old if not better."

Cutcliffe has always been partial to spreading the ball around, so junior Robert Williams, who has shown some breakaway speed returning kicks and in a limited backfield role, will likely get a share of the carries.

The turnover at the skill positions should be made easier by an offensive line that has three returning starters and plenty of experience from end to end.

Tackle Terrence Metcalf would have most likely been drafted in the first few rounds by the NFL, but instead he returned for his senior year, much to the delight of his coach.

"Terrence Metcalf is as good a player at his position as there is in the country," Cutcliffe said.

Center Ben Claxton, who was an all-freshman pick in the Southeastern Conference in 1999, is back at full strength after breaking a leg in the season opener last year.

The defense is a mystery. Literally.

Cutcliffe hired defensive coordinator Don Lindsey and mum has been the word around campus when it comes to how the Rebels will be lining up this season.

"We want to come out with a surprise," said senior Syniker Taylor, who has moved from safety to cornerback. "We've got to keep it on the hush a little bit."

Pressed for details, Taylor did say Lindsey's scheme would "give us a lot of freedom. It's really going to be a get-after-them type defense." A new approach was needed, because what the Rebels were doing last season rarely worked. Ole Miss was tied for last in the SEC in defense.

The return of linebacker Eddie Strong should help as well.

Strong was expected to be the focal point of the defense last year, but he broke his foot in the preseason and ended up a medical redshirt.

A year on the sidelines has Strong feeling feisty.

"I've gotten stronger, smarter, stronger in the mind. I got in good shape," he said. "Man, it's going to be something serious when things kick off. I can promise you that."

Whether it's Strong's return, Taylor's move or Gunn's possible re-emergence, all stories about the Rebels this year are merely sidebars to Manning's coming out.

The Rebels had high hopes for a breakout season in 2000, but ended up a disappointing 7-5, including a humbling loss to West Virginia in the Music City Bowl. Manning provided the only Ole Miss highlights in Nashville with three fourth-quarter touchdowns passes against a prevent defense.

Coming off a season like that, and with so many new players in key positions, most forecasts have the Rebels pegged for last in the SEC West.

But still there is a feeling of hope and anticipation similar to last season because of Manning, and the other Rebels feel like they are in good hands.

"Eli is an intense competitor and an all-in-all good guy," Metcalf said. "We have a lot of confidence in him because he knows the calls and completely understands the plays."

will join Williams to comprise the kickoff return specialists. Williams, who boasts 4.45 speed in the 40-yard dash, led the team in kickoff returns a year ago, averaging 22.5 yards per return, including an 87-yard touchdown romp that help propel the Wildcats to a 20-17 upset victory over then-No. 6-ranked Southwest the week following Daniels' death.

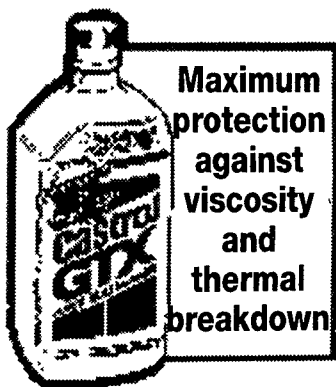

Maxfield has until the week of the Sept. 6 opener against Coahoma in Poplarville to make final cuts to meet the MACJC-mandated 55-player roster limit.

"A good bit of that (cutting players) generally takes care of itself," he said, "but we'll be making a few cuts over the next week."

Maxfield, who also handles the offensive coordinator duties, is assisted by assistant head coach Deke Adams, who also coaches the secondary; defensive coordinator William J. Jones III, and offensive line coach Buddy Stephens.
